Dedication Goes To Munoz, Jolly, Free

The members of the yearbook staff are pleased to dedicate this volume of the Chieftain to three fine individuals. The first, Yolanda Munoz, is a native of Arizona and except for teaching one year in California has spent her entire life here. She taught at Glendale High and Yuma High before coming to Westwood in 1967. She is a competitive athlete in every sense of the word. When competing personally, she plays to win, and when she is coaching her tennis or badminton teams, she coaches them with all of the vim possible to instill within them the desire to win. Her record is indicative of this attitude. She is a spark plug in the girls p.e. department and is always ready with a quick smile.

Ned Jolly has been at Westwood for eight years and has served as head of the boys p.e. department and as a varsity football coach. Coach Jolly is a hard working football coach and teacher and has the ability to get through to the students in a way that they understand. At the same time he makes them like the way he does it. Coach Jolly does a great job in all areas and we are glad that he is a Warrior.

Bob Free is no stranger to Westwooders—he first came as a counselor in 1965, filling that slot ably only to leave us in 1967 for the green pastures of the University of New Mexico. He returned in 1968 as an administrative assistant where he did a magnificent job. He left once again for Aledo, Illinois to become a principal of their high school. The pull of the desert brought him back to us, however, and he became our Assistant Principal. In his quiet, effective and efficient manner he brought about an efficient registration procedure and became a Principal the students truly appreciated. We are proud of all of these people and we're glad that they are all part of Westwood High School.

Campus beautification was a never ending project. Working are Elizabeth Brown, Mary Peterson, Linda Geronimos, Susan Thompson, and Melanie Jones.

Annual And Traditional Sophie Problems And Hendrickson Award Come With Opening

School opened with a surprise for many Westwood students this year. The surprise was created by Westwood's "new look", a project to renovate the campus. These renovations included: a new snack bar, a larger cafeteria, repainted benches and a partially completed library. In addition, custodians took great pains to replenish the forgotten grass; with their help our green friends returned.

Classes started with the normal amount of expected jitters, but students soon found their way around our rearranged campus.

Westwood started the year on a good foot with the reception of the Hy Hendrickson award for overall excellence, in sports, academics, drama, speech, and debate.

Westwood's incomparable spirit was quickly sparked into a reality as the sophomores added their newly found outlet for energy by joining the juniors and seniors in backing their teams. Without the fans, Westwood could not be the top school in the state. It was the hope of this years graduating seniors that Westwoods future generations will continue that tradition.

Keeping with tradition, Westwood's Pom and Cheer have been successful in igniting the Warrior spirit drive once again.

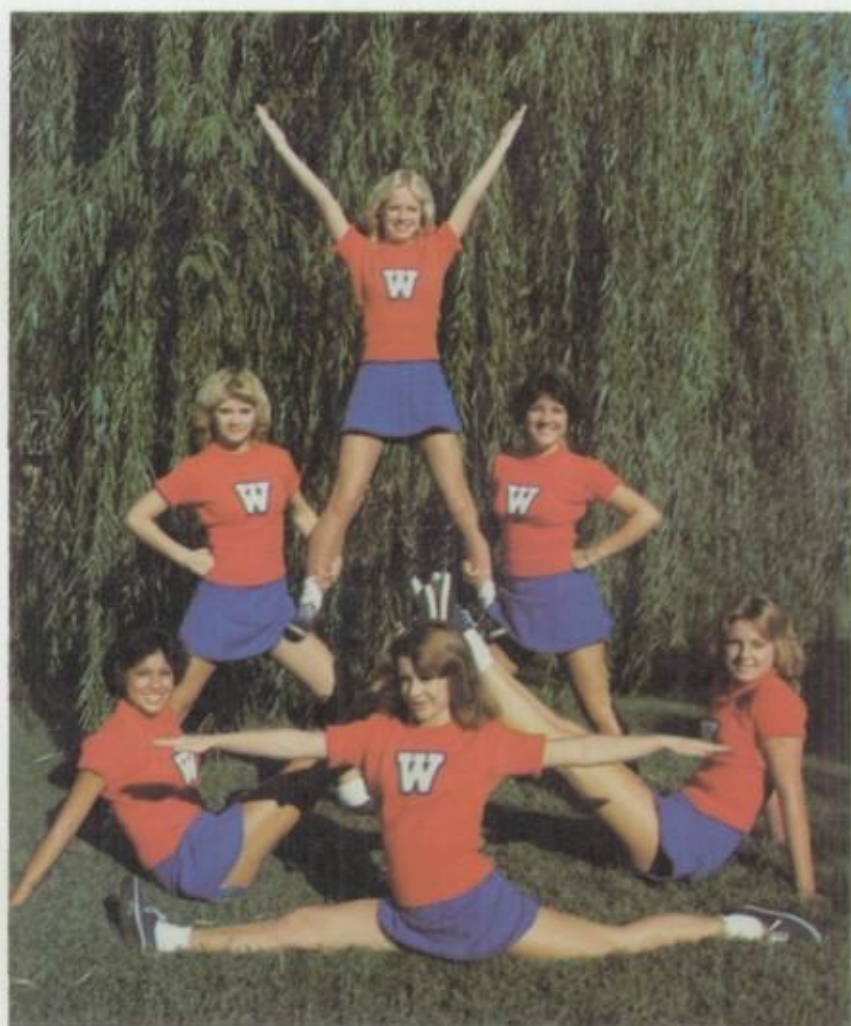

Spurring the Warriors on their way to victory were the irrepressible cheerleaders, who kept the Westwood spirit alive. Mrs. Laurie Zarkou, cheerleading sponsor, aided the girls in making spirit signs in order to "fire up the spirit".

The Warriorettes kept all the restless Warriors happy with the help of Mrs. Connie Harris and their well performed dance productions. As well as capturing and holding interest at football and basketball games, the Warriorettes represented Westwood at the Fiesta Bowl Parade and A.S.U. Band Day. They also competed locally against other pom lines in Mesa's Annual Veterans' Day Parade. In all these competitions the Warriorettes displayed their over abundance of spirit and talent. In addition to performing the Warriorettes, along with band, raised money by selling cheese, sausage and candy.

Both the Pom and Cheer aided Westwood in becoming one of the biggest spirit raisers around. These girls proved to be a valuable part of Westwood.

Cosmic Power Aids Curtain Time Acts

This year's talent show followed a theme of "Stairway to the Stars" with a stage illuminated by thousands of glittering stars and a revolving mirror ball. The show entailed a host of varied acts which included: a magic act called "Abracadabra" with Allen Wade; a musical solo, "Bring Maggie Back Home" with Lisa Bouldin; a modern dance to "Boogie Man" by Connie Jackson, Denise Jones, Verna Richardson and Stella Seaberry; a comedy skit by the "Schmadras"; a piano-song production by Mike Coleman entitled "Seems We've Been Together Before"; a gymnastics routine to "Rocky" by Jeri Cameron, Jan Shelley, and Kathy Guerrero; a song trio by "The Cousins"; a modern dance to "Star Wars" by Dance Production; a song and dance routine to "Spinning Wheels" by John Giles, John Ray, Alex Wood, Scott Reader and Brian Nissen; a robot type dance to "What Makes You Happy" by Rick Martin, Danielle Shihady, and Jan Jones; plus a monologue by Kevin Recker and the assembly was wrapped up by a song from Honor Choir.

School Rivals Meet; Spirit Sky Rockets

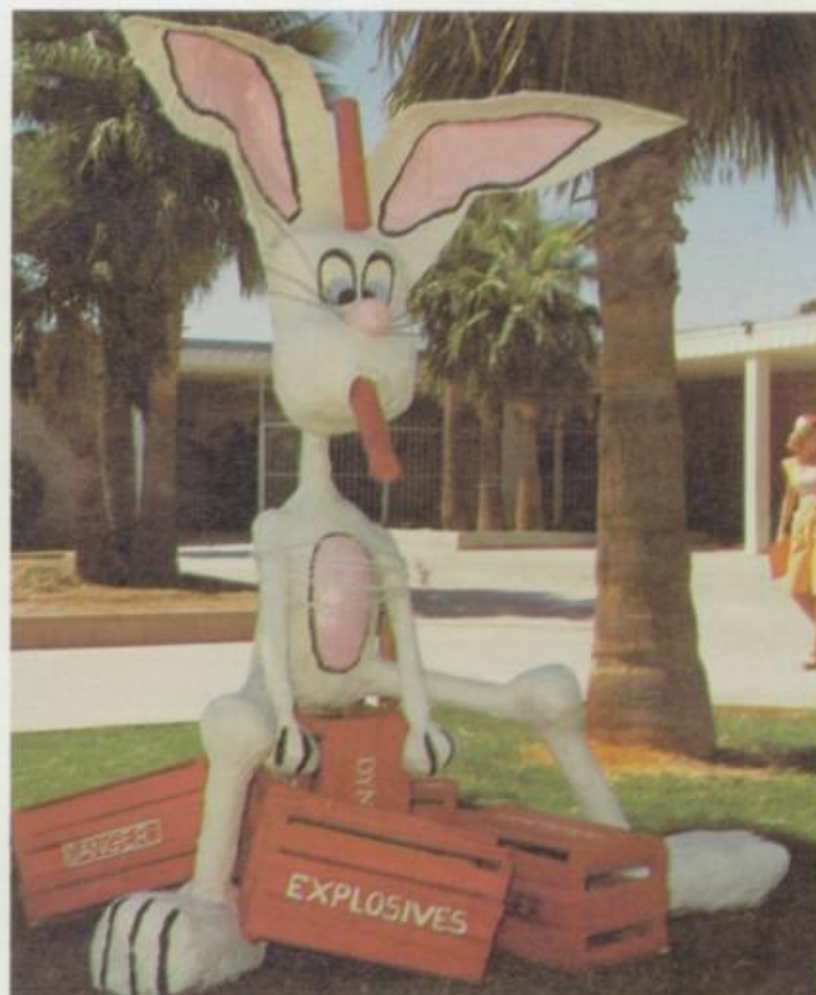

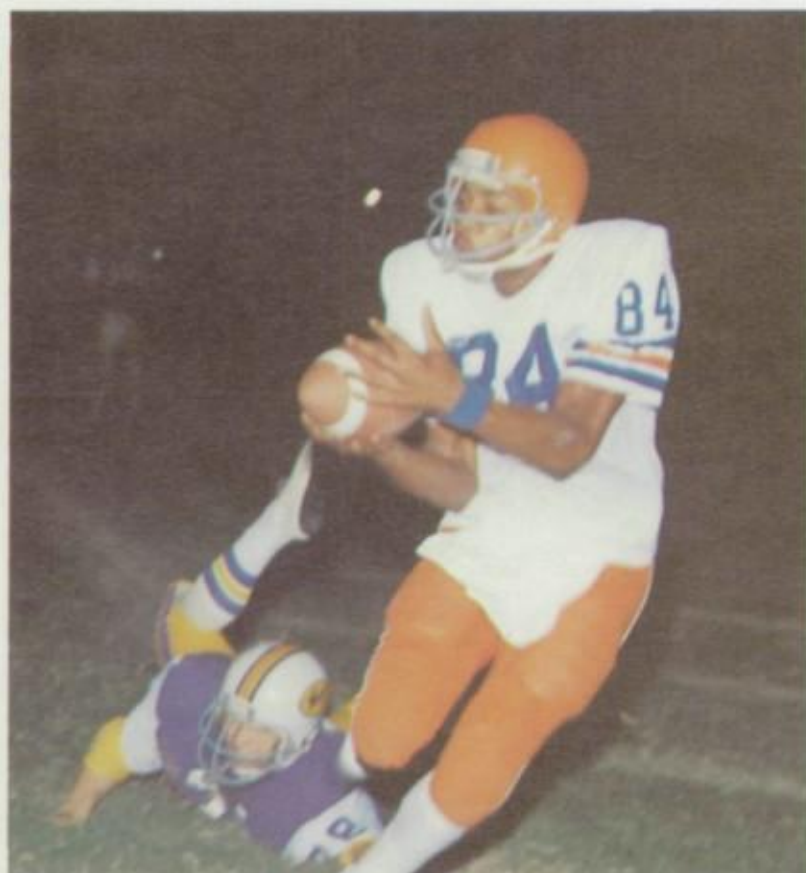

Cross town rivals forever? It appears that Mesa and Westwood will remain that way as long as the two schools exist. Some speculated that with the addition of Mountain View, the traditional rival spirit between the Warriors and the Bunnies would disappear. No such luck.

The week started off with the vanishing of the senior lawn project, which later turned up in the hands of Mesa High persons. The undaunted seniors rallied back by building a completely new lawn project and finishing in time to give some assistance to the juniors, who were behind schedule.

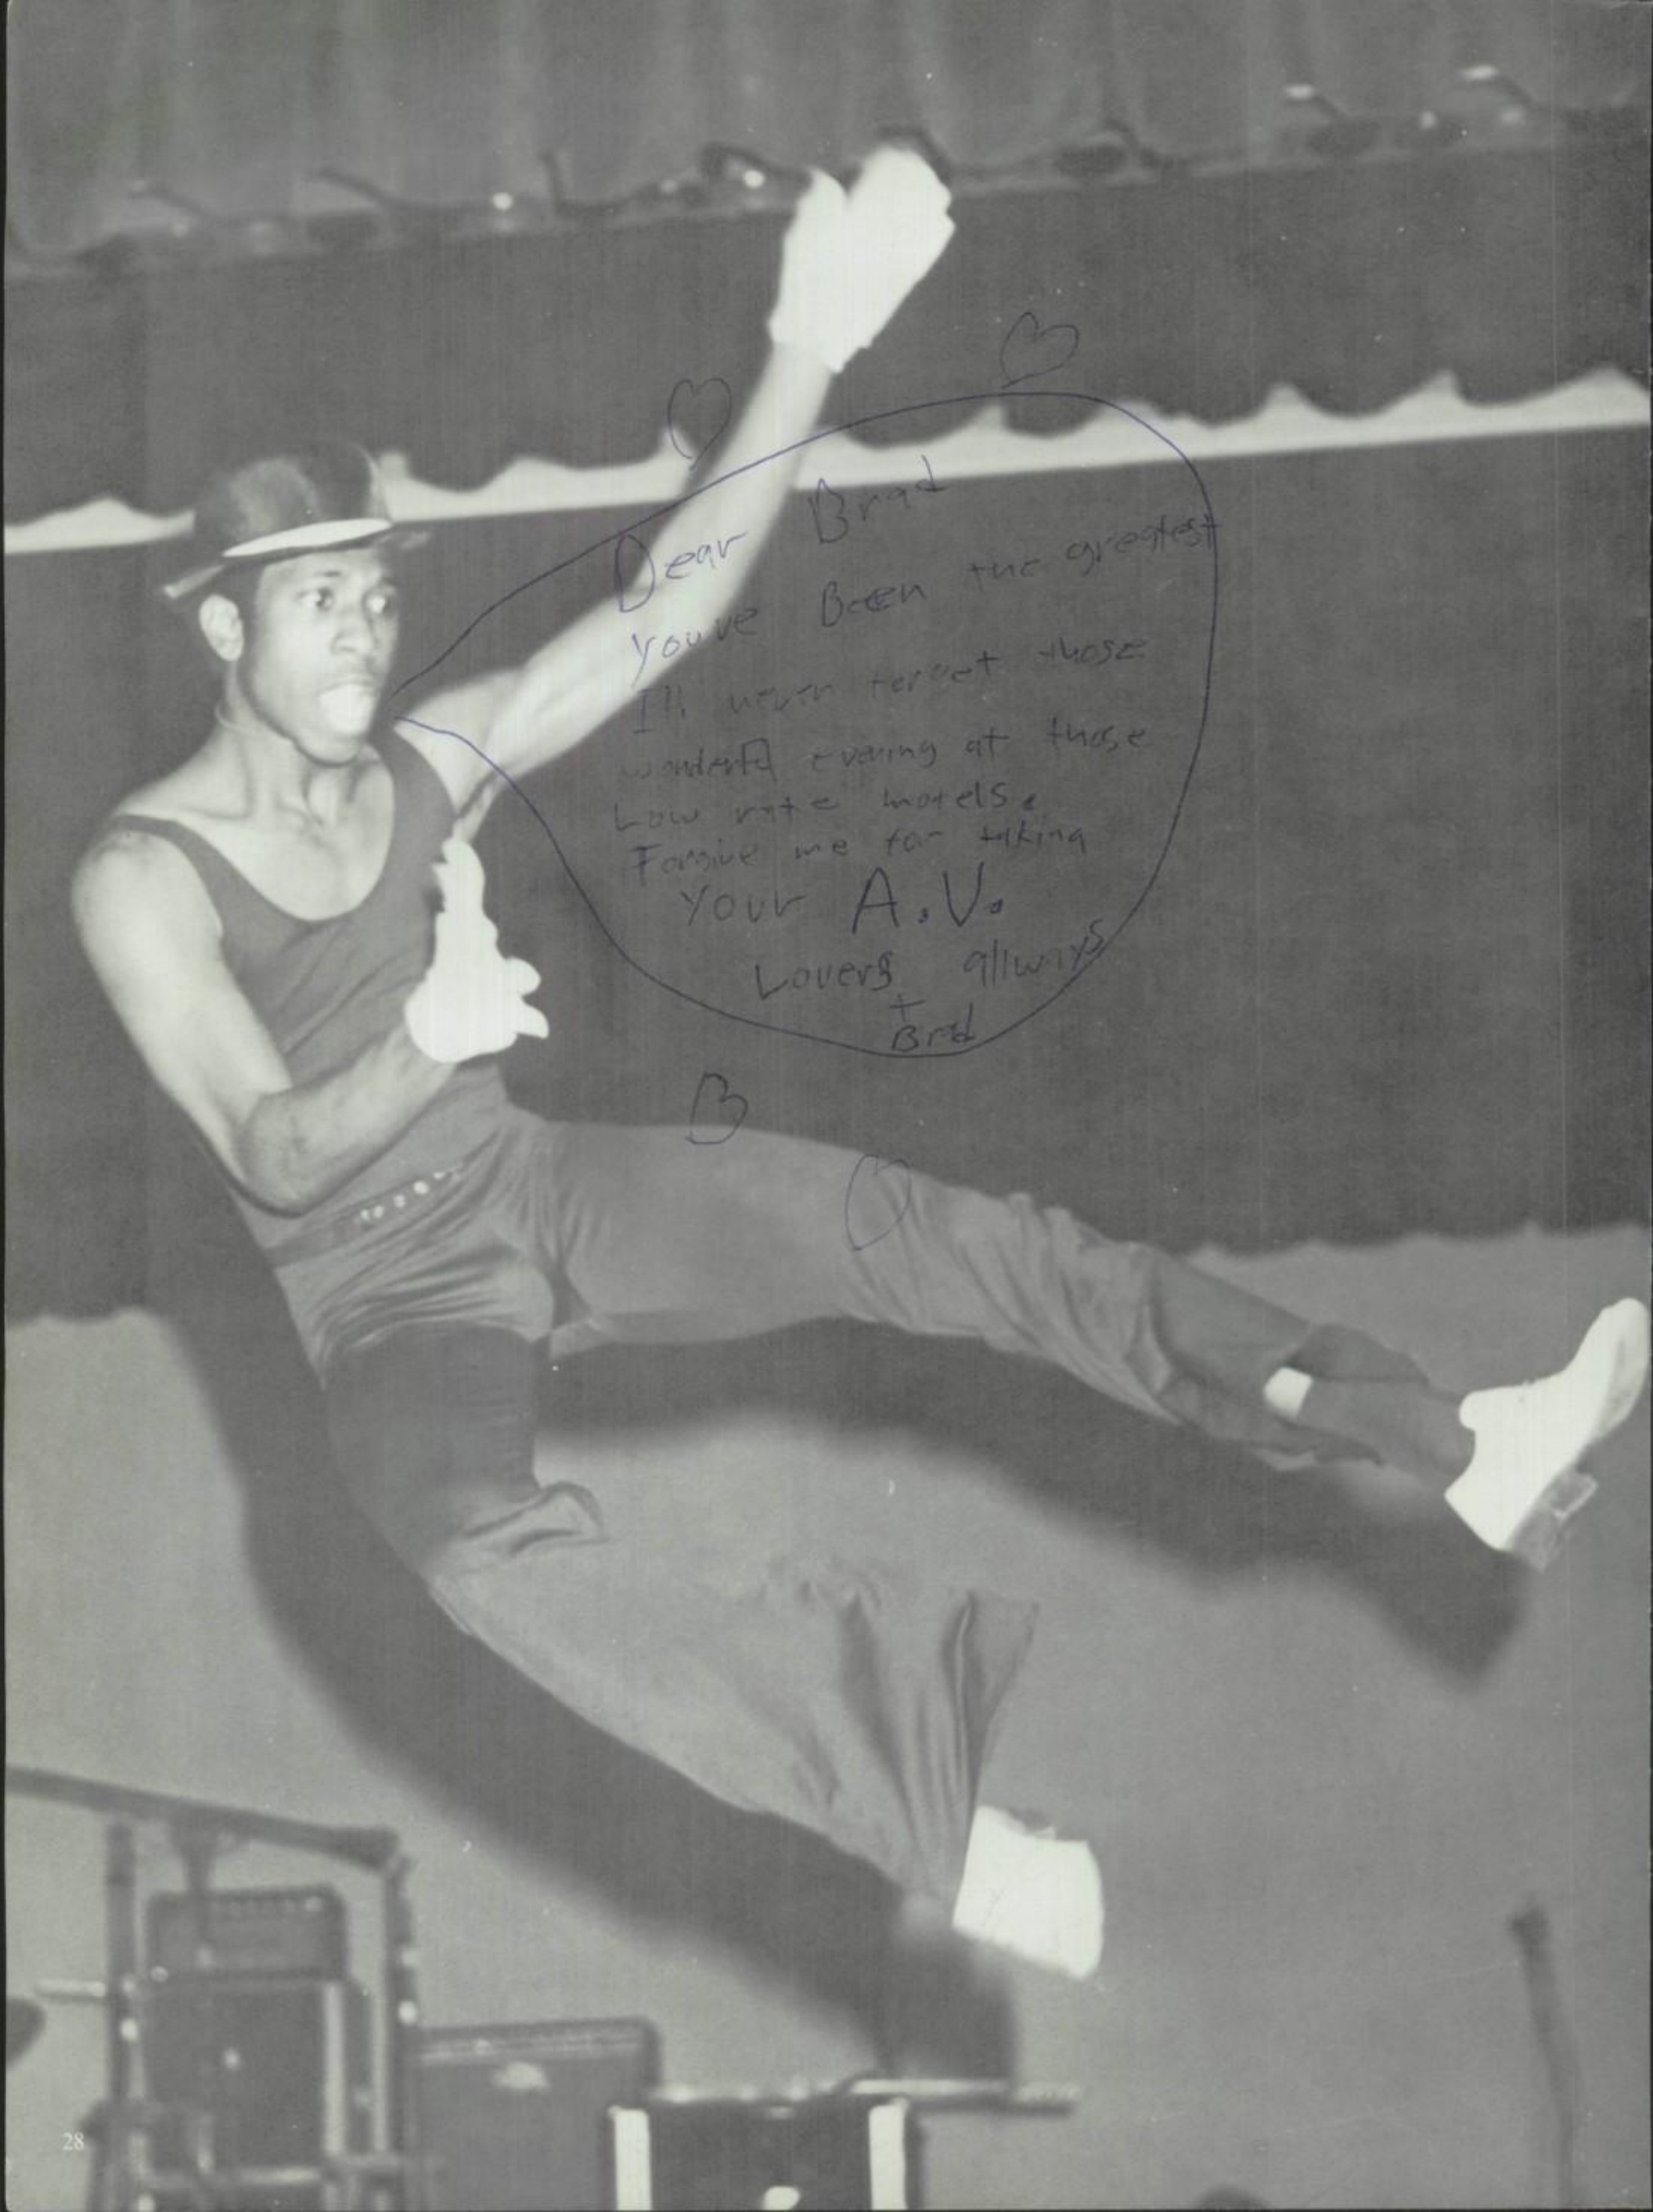

Mesa-Westwood week started out Tuesday with Stomp the Hares Day, on which spirited Warriors wore good 'ol stompin' boots. It was followed by Tease the Hare Day, where Warriors teased their hair to raise enthusiasm, and then Chew 'em up Day and Hats Off Day. The big day dawned beautifully with a pep assembly in the morning before school. The Student Council held a mock funeral for the unknown bunny at lunch time with the help of the band, Warriorettes, and cheerleaders.

At the game, the rabbits managed to squeak by Westwood in a paltry 7-6 victory, both teams making it the first of the season. Quite a few disappointed Warriors were found wandering in the pouring rain, which began immediately after the game and expressed the emotions of Warrior fans most adequately.

Spirit Reigns On A Clear Autumn Night

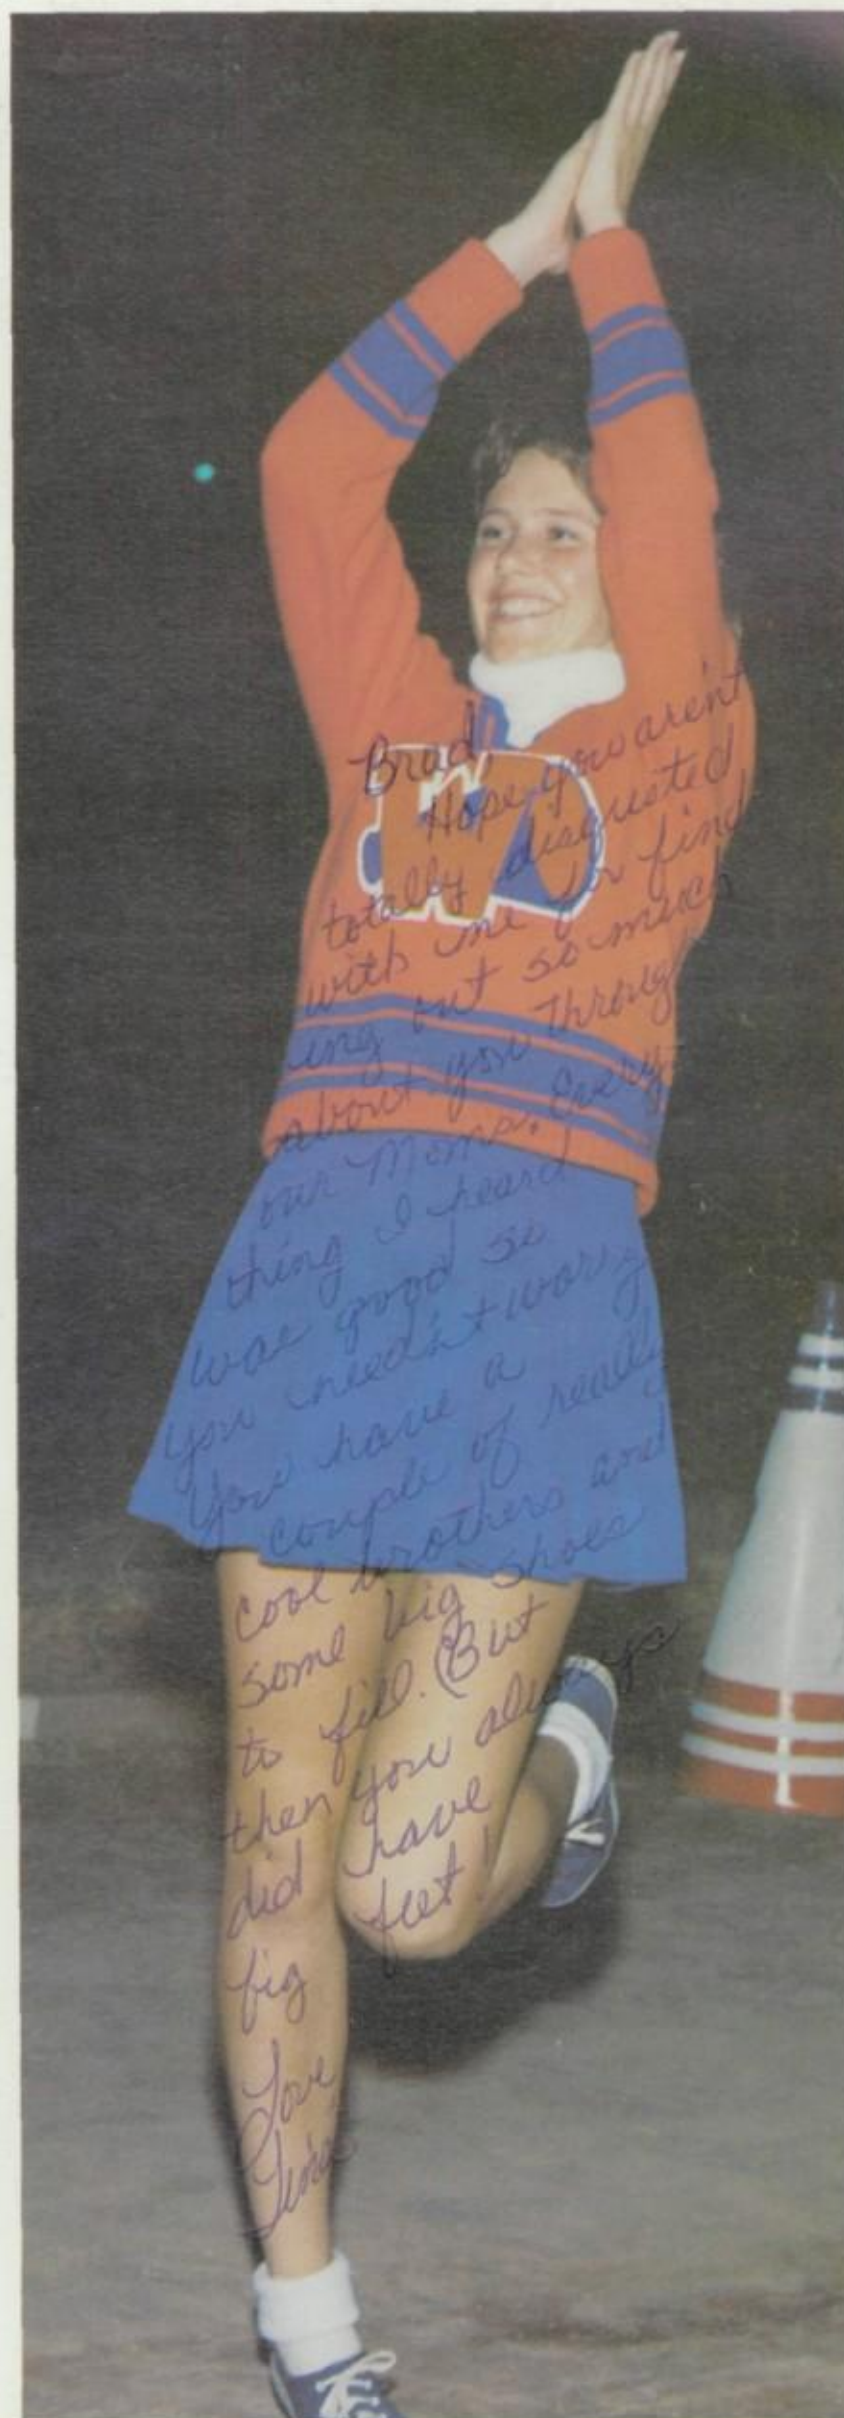

Eat, drink and be merry are perfect words to describe the favorite pastime of the Warriors, as they have fun at the games. Amid cries of "Go Westwood", "Come on Warriors", and "We'll scalp 'em tonight" the Warriors crowd into the bleachers to prepare for another victory.

From that first minute spirit rises and doesn't even begin to ebb until the gun sounds to tell everyone that the game has ended. During the hours between the gun shots, the Warriors are swept along on the spirit train. With the help of the enthusiastic cheerleaders the mob of happy Warriors are ready to yell their hearts out for our school.

Creating even more excitement are the rough and rowdy football players as they move the ball down the field. The excitement reaches the cosmic limits as the Warriors score a touchdown. While the extra point is being made there's a flurry of blue and gold t-shirts, balloons, and banners as the crowd wails out the fight song. The magic of having fun at the games is, good food, good friends, lots of spirit, and a winning team.

Homecoming Royalty
Marcy Gardner & Pete Kiesecker

Gardner And Kiesecker Capture Coveted Crowns

Homecoming '77-'78 was an exciting affair that dawned with beautiful weather to welcome back the alumni of years gone by. They spent the day meeting with old friends and teachers to renew past experiences and memories.

In the meantime, the three classes had been busily constructing their respective floats under the direction of class officers. The seniors designed an immense covered wagon complete with horses, pioneers, and indians, while the juniors built a costly looking trophy case of past and present memories. The sophomores turned up with a prospector and desert mountain which came with simulated wildlife. The class of '80 pulled an up set and squeaked by the judges to gain a narrow victory.

The game was a tough defensive battle with Westwood punting nine times as they fought their way through the Chandler Wolves. The final score was an even 7-7.

Halftime activities featured the mighty Warrior B and that scored #1 in the state the next morning at ASU. Floats were pulled around the track with Homecoming Royalty following in horse drawn carriages. The tension mounted as the votes were reviewed and Marcy Gardner and Peter Kiesecker were crowned King and Queen.

Class Spirit Flows Freely At Pow Wow

The ever exciting Pow Wow was an event which raised the spirit of the Warriors sky high. It was held a little earlier this year, but the date seemed to hold no effect on the enthusiasm of the classes.

The traditions at Westwood are ones that are for the most part, enjoyed by all. The Pow Wow is one of these many traditions and has been around since the beginning of the school. Pow Wow is held to raise spirit for the football games, and to promote a little friendly competition between the three classes. It was held out on the football field and consisted of various activities which were judged by teachers. The things judged were: attendance, class yells led by the cheerleaders, and for the first time, a crab soccer game took place. It consisted of a four foot soccer ball which could be kicked only by people moving about on their hands and feet with their stomachs up.

The Pow Wow ended in a three way tie with the sophomores winning attendance, juniors yells and seniors the soccer game.

What a Big Man!

Production Of Play Dazzles Audiences

The drama wing of the Performing Arts Department came through once again with a smashing all-school play in the form of an English farce entitled "See How They Run".

The plot takes place in England during World War II and revolves around a small town Reverend, (John Ray) and his ex-actress wife, Penelope (Melanie Jones).

As the play begins, the Reverend is listening to scandalous stories about his wife provided by the village gossip, Miss Skillon (Sue St. John). Miss Skillon, a confirmed old spinster, occupies her time blowing up innocent details and getting Penelope in trouble. Penelope, however has a maid, Ida, (Tina Brunsdale) who becomes very competent at making life difficult for Miss Skillon.

As the plot develops, an old acting friend of Penelope's, Corporal Clive Winton (John Giles) shows up and Miss Skillon thinks Penelope has a lover. The show becomes more involved as the Reverend runs around trying to find out the identities of the people who mysteriously show up and confuse all of their lives.

Christmas Activities

Add To Class Spirit

Christmas took three main forms at Westwood this year; Christmas halls, the annual and traditional assembly and the canned food drive. Of the three, the halls were the main activity for seniors, juniors, and sophies.

Many hard hours were put in on the halls. First, trying to think up original ideas, then once you had one drawing and painting until finally it was time to hang them up. When the results of the judging were announced the seniors were ecstatic with their first place win with the theme of "Christmas on Main". Sophies came in second with their theme, a "B.C. Christmas"; and juniors were third with a "Star Wars" theme.

The assembly was put on by many talented students, with their acts ranging from modern dances to Christmas songs and a toy shop skit. The skit showed to the normal human what can happen on Christmas Eve in a deserted toy shop.

The canned food drive was one of the most successful events at Westwood. Many students participated by bringing cans of food from their home or collecting them in their neighborhoods. To add interest many classes took part in competition against each other.

All in all, students made this Christmas one filled with joy and happiness.

TV Detectives Theme For '78 Senior Play

"Nancy Drool and the Hard-Up Boys" was presented for the first time on the stage of the Shepherd Auditorium as the time came once again for the Senior class play.

A combined effort was put in, as was much work, in order to write something that would encompass all aspects of life. The writers that came up with the final product, that was the Senior play, were Kevin Recker, Julie Peterson, Scott Reader, Holly Harper, Melanie Jones, and John Giles. The plot revolved around the "Miss Global" beauty pageant and the murder of Miss America played by Holly Harper. Soon after her death Nancy Drool, portrayed by Melanie Jones, arrived on the scene as the new Miss America.

As the plot unfolds we see all the contestants slowly but surely dying, until finally there are no contestants left except for Nancy Drool. The last act of the play involved the solving of the case. This was done by bringing together the world's most renowned detectives, among the detectives were James Bond, by Kevin Recker, Ironside by John Ray, Batman by Wade Solomon, Robin by Wayne Magnusson. By putting their heads together they finally deduced that it was Nancy who had committed the murders.

The Senior class produced the play in order to strive towards winning the coveted Natani Award.

Warrior's Welcome Greet's Nightingale

Ten years ago if students had been asked what AFS was the asker probably would have received a blank look. But today because of people like Kathy Nightingale who spread cheer and friendliness wherever they go AFS is more widely known.

This year AFS brought to us a New Zealander by the name of Kathy Nightingale. Kathy arrived in Mesa at the end of the summer and began regular classes along with all the other Westwood students on August the 28th. During the time spent here at Westwood Kathy learned a lot about the levels of our government from state to national.

While Kathy was here in Mesa, she was hosted by the Crosthwait family. Students are placed with families in order to put them in a natural environment in which they feel comfortable.

Westwood also sends students abroad. This year the student chosen was Barb Rowley. She will leave Mesa sometime in June to go to a foreign country where she will stay with a host family and learn the customs.

Juniors Amuse All Thru Thick and Thin

A great deal of talent went into the making of the Junior Class Play. The play was presented to Westwood students on February 17th.

The story centered itself around the life and happenings of the well-rounded Prince Ding Dong. The first scene takes place on the day of the Prince's 27th girth-day. On this very special day, the Prince's parents, King and Queen Ding Dong, played by Terry Turk and Mary Tibshareny, decide that it's time for the Prince to marry. The dubious honor of being chosen as the Prince's bride falls upon Princess Parallel (Mitzi Melville). The only problem is that the Prince is not allowed to see the Princess until the ball, which is later on in the evening.

Meanwhile, Diane Meter a village maiden (Camille Judy), has fallen desperately in love with the Prince. She goes to the Wizard (Lane Reynolds) and begs him to show her the Princess by means of his crystal ball. After seeing the Princess, the Wizard falls in love with her. As in keeping with tradition, the story ends with the Prince and Diane, and the Wiz and the Princess, falling in love; and everyone living happily ever after.

Candidates Chosen; Harper Is Crowned

Friday, January the 13th proved to be anything but unlucky for Holly Harper as she was crowned Chieftain Princess of 1978.

The four other candidates in the running were Jeanette Caruth, Colleen Tollakson, Kathy Swan and Mary Goodchild. These five senior girls were chosen by student council members as the five who had contributed the most time and energy to the Publications. After the student council narrowed it to five, the student body then cast their ballot and made their choice.

Cristi Cummins, the 1977 Chieftain Princess, returned to Westwood in order to turn over her crown to the new reigning princess, Holly. Cristi was escorted by Jeff Miller another graduate of 1977.

Brad,

If it wasn't for you lying to me about Mark, he would still like me. What a turkey!
No I am just kidding. I don't think he ever liked me. anyway
this has been a great year +
I am glad I got to know you.
Take it easy. See ya

Traces of ...

Endurance and determination to finish that extra yard,

A desire to succeed in the search for victory,
To dare to strive for the best.

Not wanting to settle for second,

Yet accepting losses

That are really victories in disguise.

Learning to lose while learning to win,

Becoming a person while becoming an athlete.

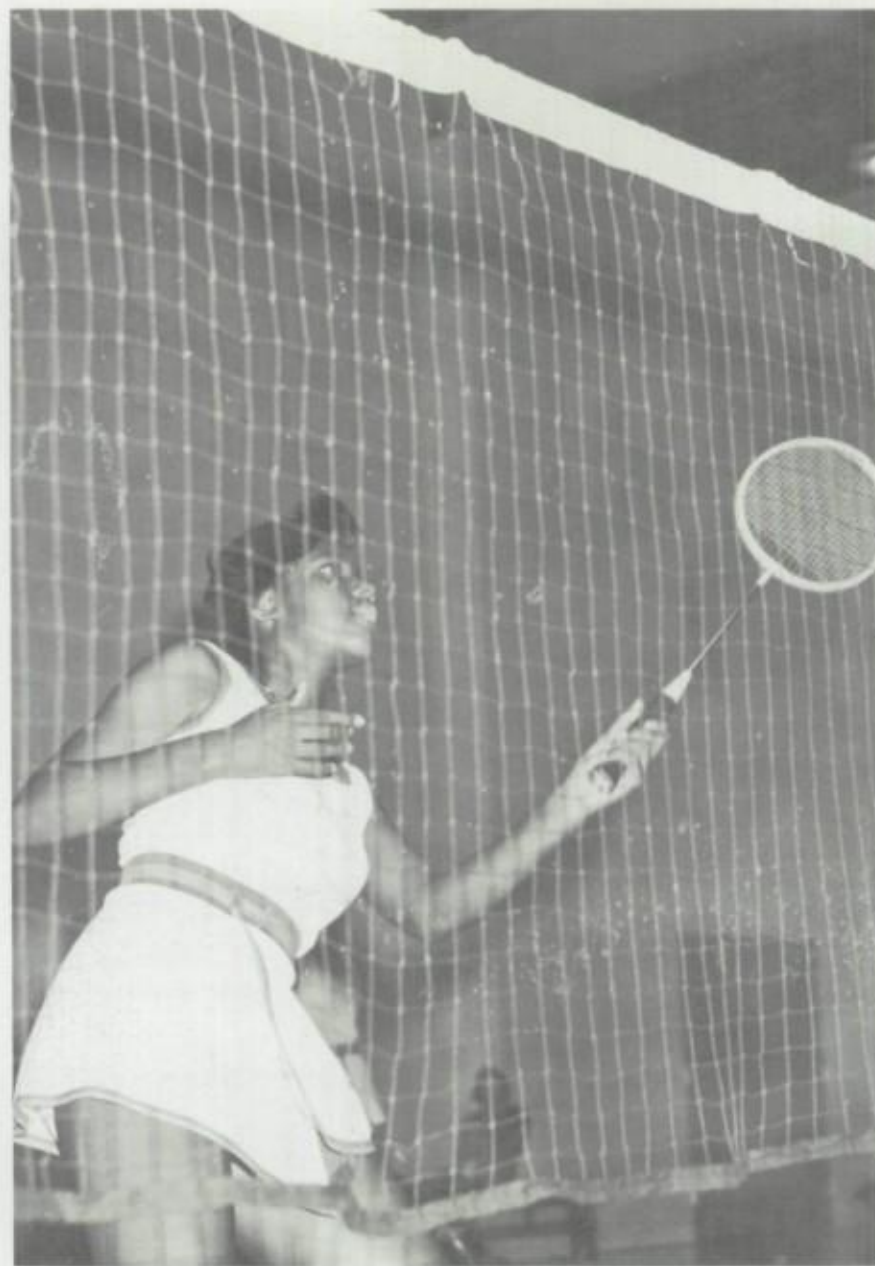

Pursuing self-determined goals

Until achievements are earned,

The future lies waiting

And you're on your way.

Birds Fly To State; Archers Aim For Eye!

This year's badminton team wasted no time in taking control of the courts. With many hours of practice and much determined participation, members worked to put Westwood's team on top. They were well rewarded by the team placing second in Divisionals. Outstanding players included Judy Kelley, who placed second in singles competition; the doubles teams of Chris Jimenez and Lynette Franklin, and Cindy Gearhart and Gina Hase, who were forced to play each other for a chance to go to state. Chris and Lynette were victorious. Judy also made the state team in singles category. After the first day of competition, Judy placed in the top four, but suffered an injury and was forced to default. Miss Yolanda Munoz, the team sponsor was proud of her girls for giving their all to this season.

While the badminton team was making points on the courts, the Archery team, with bows in hand, was making points in another way. Practicing every day, members tried to make this year the best. They participated in hour meets, usually held on Mondays and Wednesdays. Except for three veterans, all of the team players were new. This year marked the first change in archery meet rules. The usual shooting lines of 30-40-50 yards was changed to 30-40-50 meters. Besides weekly competition, there was the end of the year Divisional Meet and State Competition.

Girls Number Two; Winning Customs Kept

Matching last year's quality, the girls swimming team placed second in both Divisionals and State competitions. Coach Sally Bixby claimed, "Bringing home the second place trophy was more of an accomplishment than was expected. We performed super, but the team that won was just better."

The main members of the team that helped lead the girls to a near perfect season were top swimmers: Jane Byerly, Lynne Byerly, Kris Horsley, Kathleen Cramer, Anne Reynolds, and Becky Stanley, and top divers Lynn Glasenapp and Jan Shelley. Lots of time and effort went into the forming of a winning swim team.

The scores improved and the times were lower with many team members participating in AAU competition.

Coach Bixby was quoted as saying, "They worked very hard and were a really great team." Co-captains of the 1977-78 girls swim team were Jane Byerly and Becky Stanley. Captain of the diving team was Lynn Glasenapp.

Downing Is Leader; Captain Is Armenta

The Westwood baseball teams began their '78 season with high hopes of turning their young team into state championship material. With senior pitchers Bartley Beckert, Scott Baehre, and Dave Templeton, plus junior pitchers Darren McCleve and Scott Kroschell, the team put up a strong battle against their opponents. Contributing towards team success were outfielders Gary Butler, Brad Woods, and Tom Holloway. Captain Mark Armenta played the position of Short Stop while Marc Cox, Lane Reynolds and Charlie Foran played first, second and third basemen respectively. Tim Stansell and Glenn Loper played in catcher's position.

Head Coach George Downing, Pitching Coach Chris Flothe and Infield Coach Tom Pratt lead their team against the tough conference opponents; Coronado, McClintock and Chandler. Westwood usually dominated their division, but this year, team members had to put in an extra effort to succeed.

Varsity Warriors Enter Divisionals

It was a year of accomplishment; the year when the Varsity Football Team went into divisional competition for the first time in years.

Although the overall team record may not seem very impressive, the Warriors won the games of great importance. True, they went to resounding defeat against the Jackrabbits of Mesa High, as with other non-league opponents.

While Coach Jerry Loper's wishbone offense really got into gear putting points on the scoreboard, their opponents scored scantily, thanks to the Warrior defensive team.

When the regular season came to a close, the Braves ended in second place behind the mighty McClintock Chargers. In second place, they were eligible for the play-offs in which they encountered the Buffaloes of Tempe where Westwood emerged victorious with a score of 21-7. But the Warrior's winning streak was short-lived when they were defeated by Washington in the second playoff game. This proved to be the end of a fruitful season.

J.V.'s Keep Winning Apaches Kill Slump

This year Westwood was represented well by its J.V. and Apache Football teams. Coach Gates kept up his winning tradition of the past years by rounding out this season with a record of 8-2. With the help of his two-way performers, Bob Beaty, Bill Wilson, Bruce Cotter, Daren Coleman, and Kent Loper, they were able to shut-out Saguaro by a score of 35-0; beat their cross-town rivals, the Mesa Jackrabbits, by a score of 20-12; and hold their opponents to an average of 12 points a game, while the Warriors averaged 25 for a weekly contest.

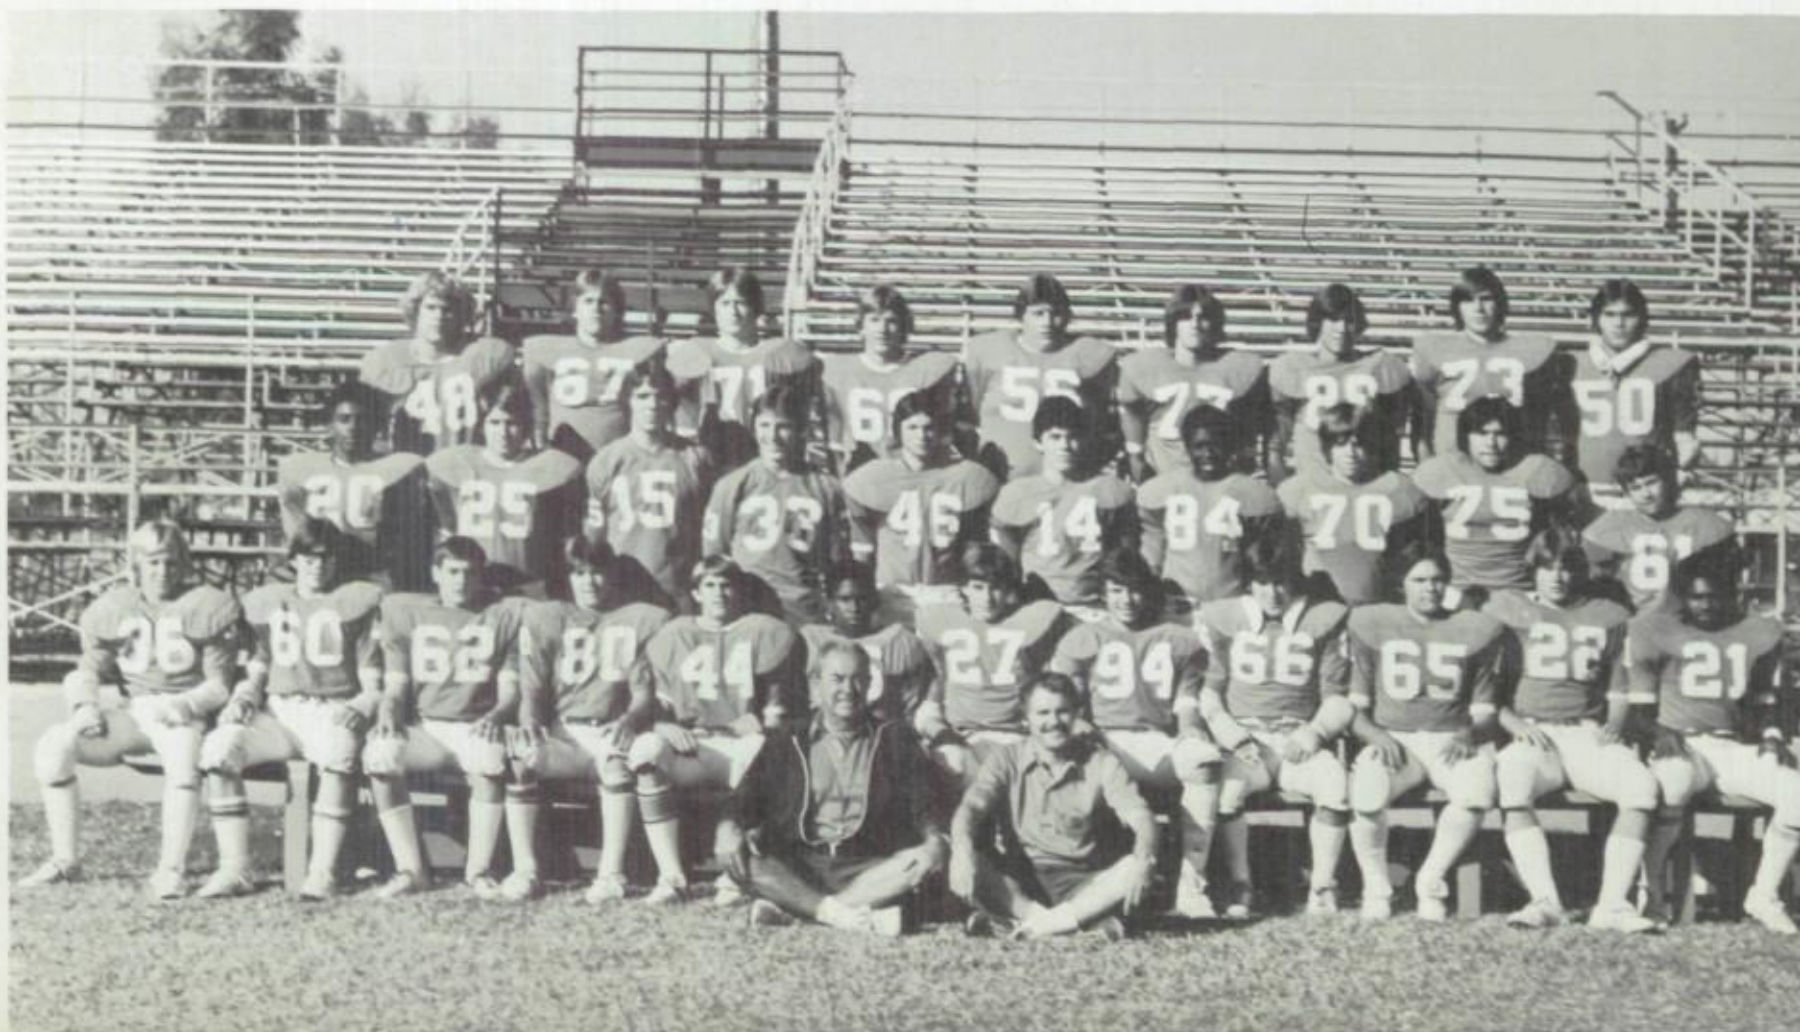

On the Apache level, the Warriors experienced their first taste of victory when they overthrew Washington 22-18 in their third game of the season. Some outstanding performers whom Coach Downing had the privilege of coaching this year were, Terry Richardson, Brent Gardner, Daniel Gracia, Clifford Hathcock, Jeff Sorenson, and Paul Riggs. The Apaches achieved something that past Apache teams had trouble doing; and that was winning.

Gymnasts To Prove They Are The Best

The boy's gymnastics squad did their part to uphold the honor of Westwood this year. Although they had one of the youngest teams they have had in years, they proved to be 'ole Westwood material.

Last year the gymnasts took runner-up in the state competition. They fell to the state winners by a very slim margin of .25 of a point. A very impressive exhibition. Their only worry at the time was the fact that the boys were losing a healthy line of gymnasts due to the annual graduation. However, Coach Impson and his boys overcame the evident obstacle and rambled on in to the season confident of success.

Throughout the season, Coach Impson was relying on seniors, Troy Valentine, Barry Palmer, and Scott Hathcock for the leadership to pull them through. The Juniors comprised of Vince Thacker, Ken Johnson, Richard Webb, Gregg Cluff, Ed Rodriguez, Karl Griner, and Bart Passey.

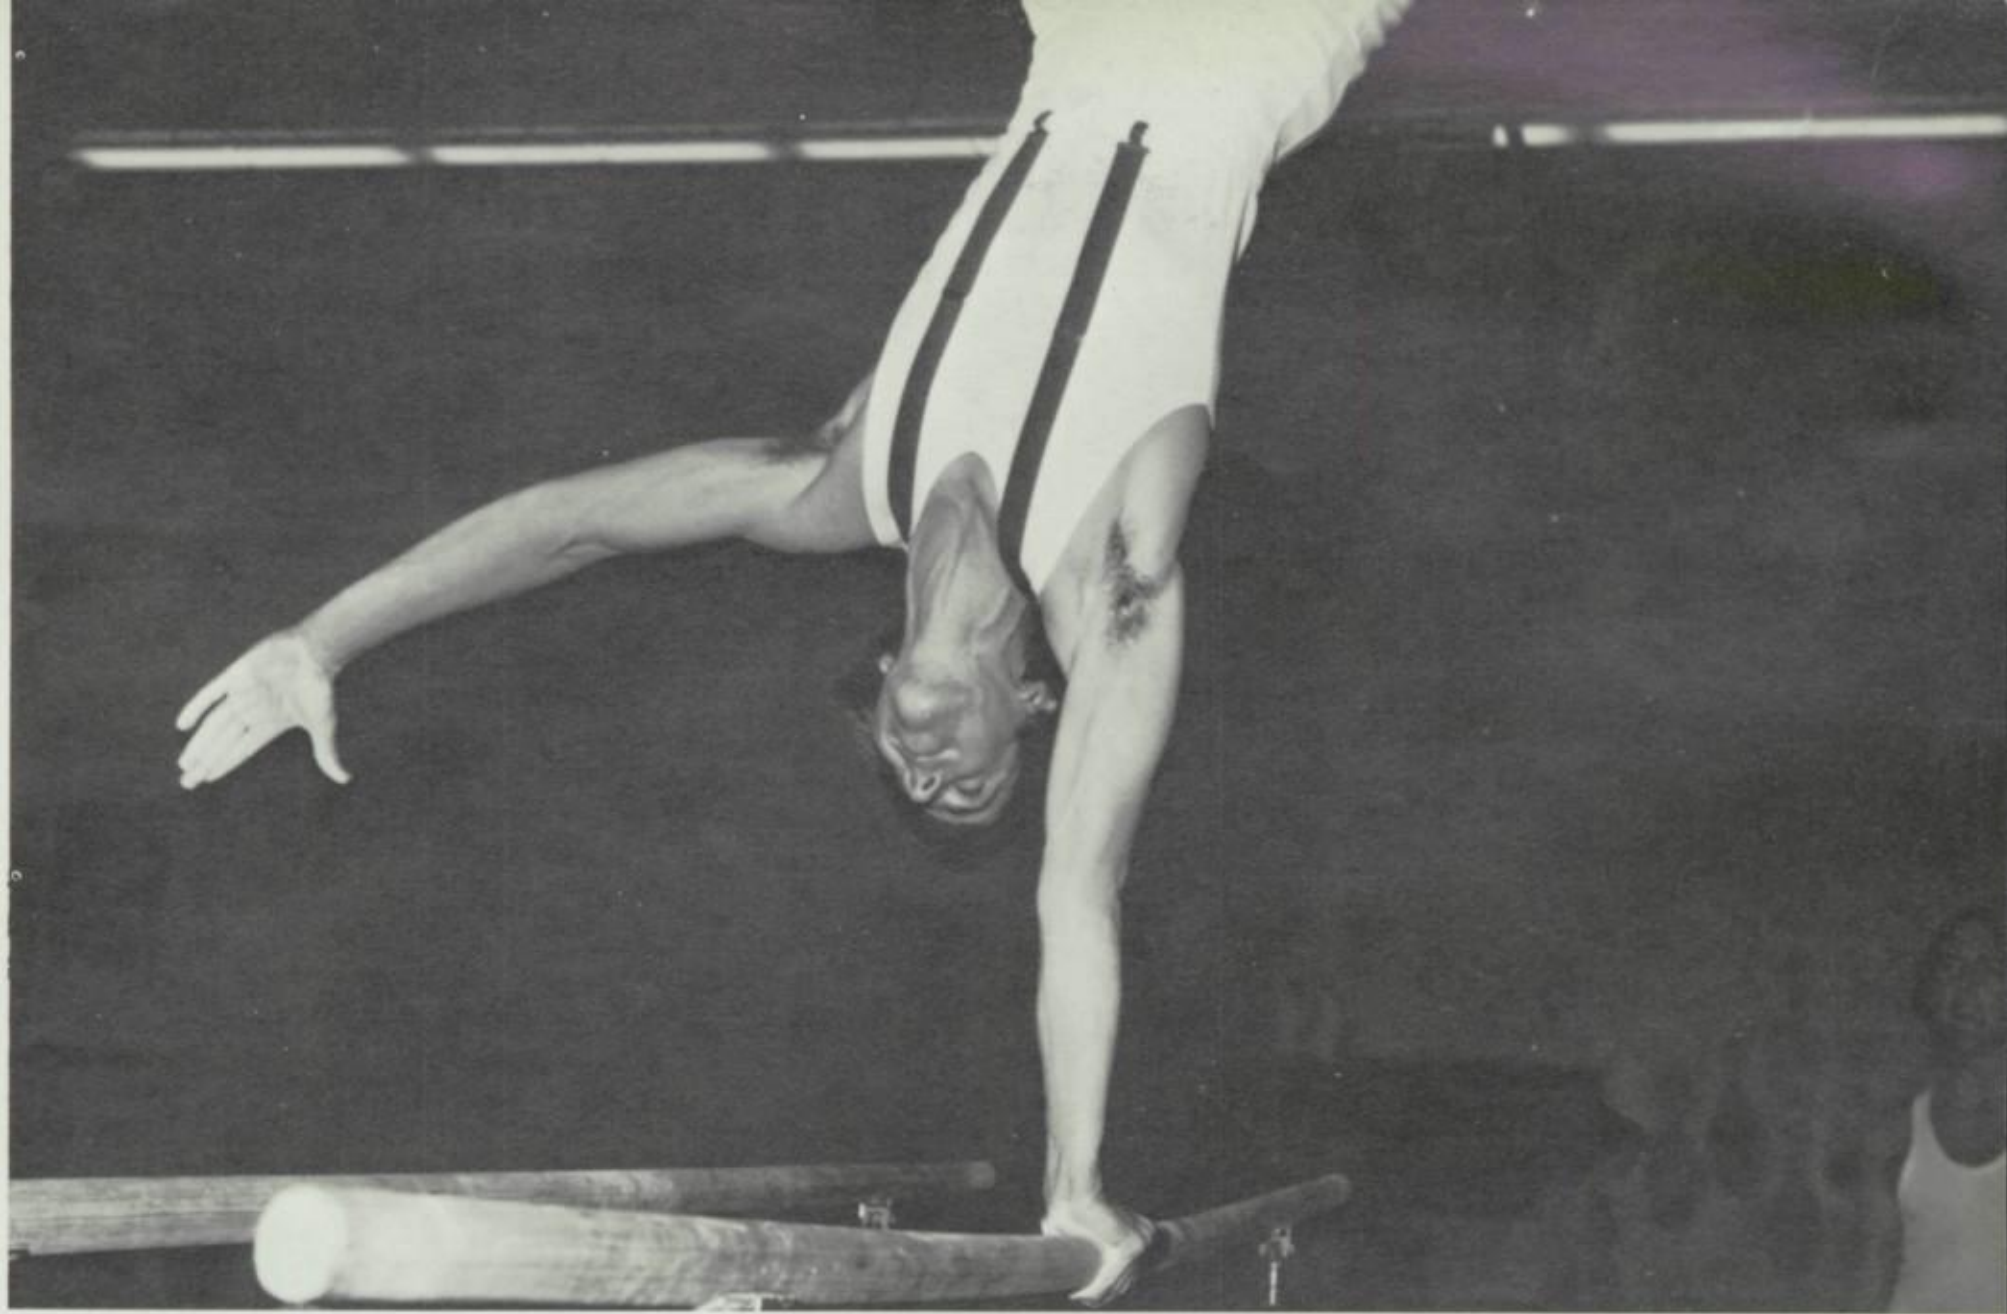

Sophomores on the team were Ben Jarvis, Mark Pew, and Kirk Guinn. Coach Impson was even impressed enough to put some freshman on his team. Danny Shearer could be one of the best ninth grade gymnasts in the state.

Gymnastics started about two months before competition so all their routines are up to Impson's standards by the time the meets come along.

Efforts Of Gymnasts Shows Poise And Grace

State Championships don't come often to any teams, but the girls gymnastics team did manage to win in 1977. The 1978 team carried on these winning ways.

Thanks to Jan Shelley, who was named No. 1 in the state (in all around competition) for the past two years, the team is on top.

Newcomer Terri Brown stepped right in and proved her merit by gathering in the points. The likes of Lynn Glasenapp and Karen Lawrence helped round out and give depth to the team.

When it came to working on the uneven bars, no one could top Amy Fransworth.

All in all, competition was very tough, especially with Scottsdale High putting on the pressure at all times. But a school doesn't win the HA Hendrickson trophy for two years in a row by putting out second rate teams. The girl's gymnastics team definately was not second rate.

Warrior Thins Tough; Jobski Beats Rabbits

What started out to be one of the most successful cross country teams in the history of Westwood High, ended in disappointment as the Warrior team won their first eleven meets and lost their final three.

"The high point of our season may have been when we took second place in the Squaw Peak Invitational," said coach Jerry Jobski. Coach Jobski could attribute his success to such talented runners as seniors, Bob Burns and Brian Ray who usually dominated the three mile course. Also Westwood was very fortunate to have a sophomore athlete who rated among the top in varsity competition around the state. Henry Valdez, as a sophomore, was responsible many times for Westwood's victories. The captain was Bob Burns and he, along with Phil Tau and Greg Hastings, also added greatly to the team.

The J.V.'s possessed point-getters like Rolland Shill, Burdette Brown, Tom Prentice and Tim Smets to lead them to an excellent 11-1 record.

Westwood has a lot coming back and Coach Jobski, along with other valley teams, are willingly aware of this. With next year's season rapidly approaching, the Warriors are ready and waiting.

Team In Divisionals; Defeat Mesa High

Westwood's Softball Team broke the school record in its category this year by making it all the way to the second game in divisional play offs before being defeated by the Yuma team 3-1.

With a strong offensive as well as defensive season, this year's girls softball team ended the season with a 11-3 record. The team went into divisional play where they defeated the Mesa Jackrabbits 8-0. They then went on to be defeated by the Yuma Criminals which completed their divisional competition.

Returning seniors Judy Crouse, LaVonne O'Banner, Mary Schuster and Marla Stapley greatly contributed to the team's strength. These seniors had been on the varsity team all three years.

Underclassmen rounded out the softball team's strength. Returning for their second year were Rhonda Cooper and Becky Hahn. Candy Hunsaker and Tricia Seaberry showed outstanding skills as sophomores.

Mr. Larry Juniper conditioned the Junior Varsity softball team for four months to prepare them for a winning season.

Next year's teams, both Varsity and Junior Varsity, should have outstanding seasons with the returning players from this year's teams. Varsity coach Joyce Tominaga and Junior Varsity coach Larry Juniper plan to repeat their winning ways next year.

Tankers, Win Honors; Swim Toward Success

The boy's swim team experienced another fine season here at Westwood as Coach Craig Cummins led the Warriors through another strong and successful series.

Coach Cummins, who is responsible for six state champion swim teams here at Westwood, depended on such talented people as Mark Kuhse in the 50 and 100 freestyle, while Keith Clifton controlled the 100 freestyle and 100 breaststroke events. Craig Shumway mastered the 100 and 200 yard freestyle and Keith Rowley was untouched in the 100 fly.

When asked how he thought he would do in the season he replied that they are capable enough to take the highest honor in division competition. However, he thought that capturing the state title would be a little tougher this year due to the strong competition coming in from Brophy, who draws athletes in on scholarships, and the always hard-to-beat Tucson High swimmers.

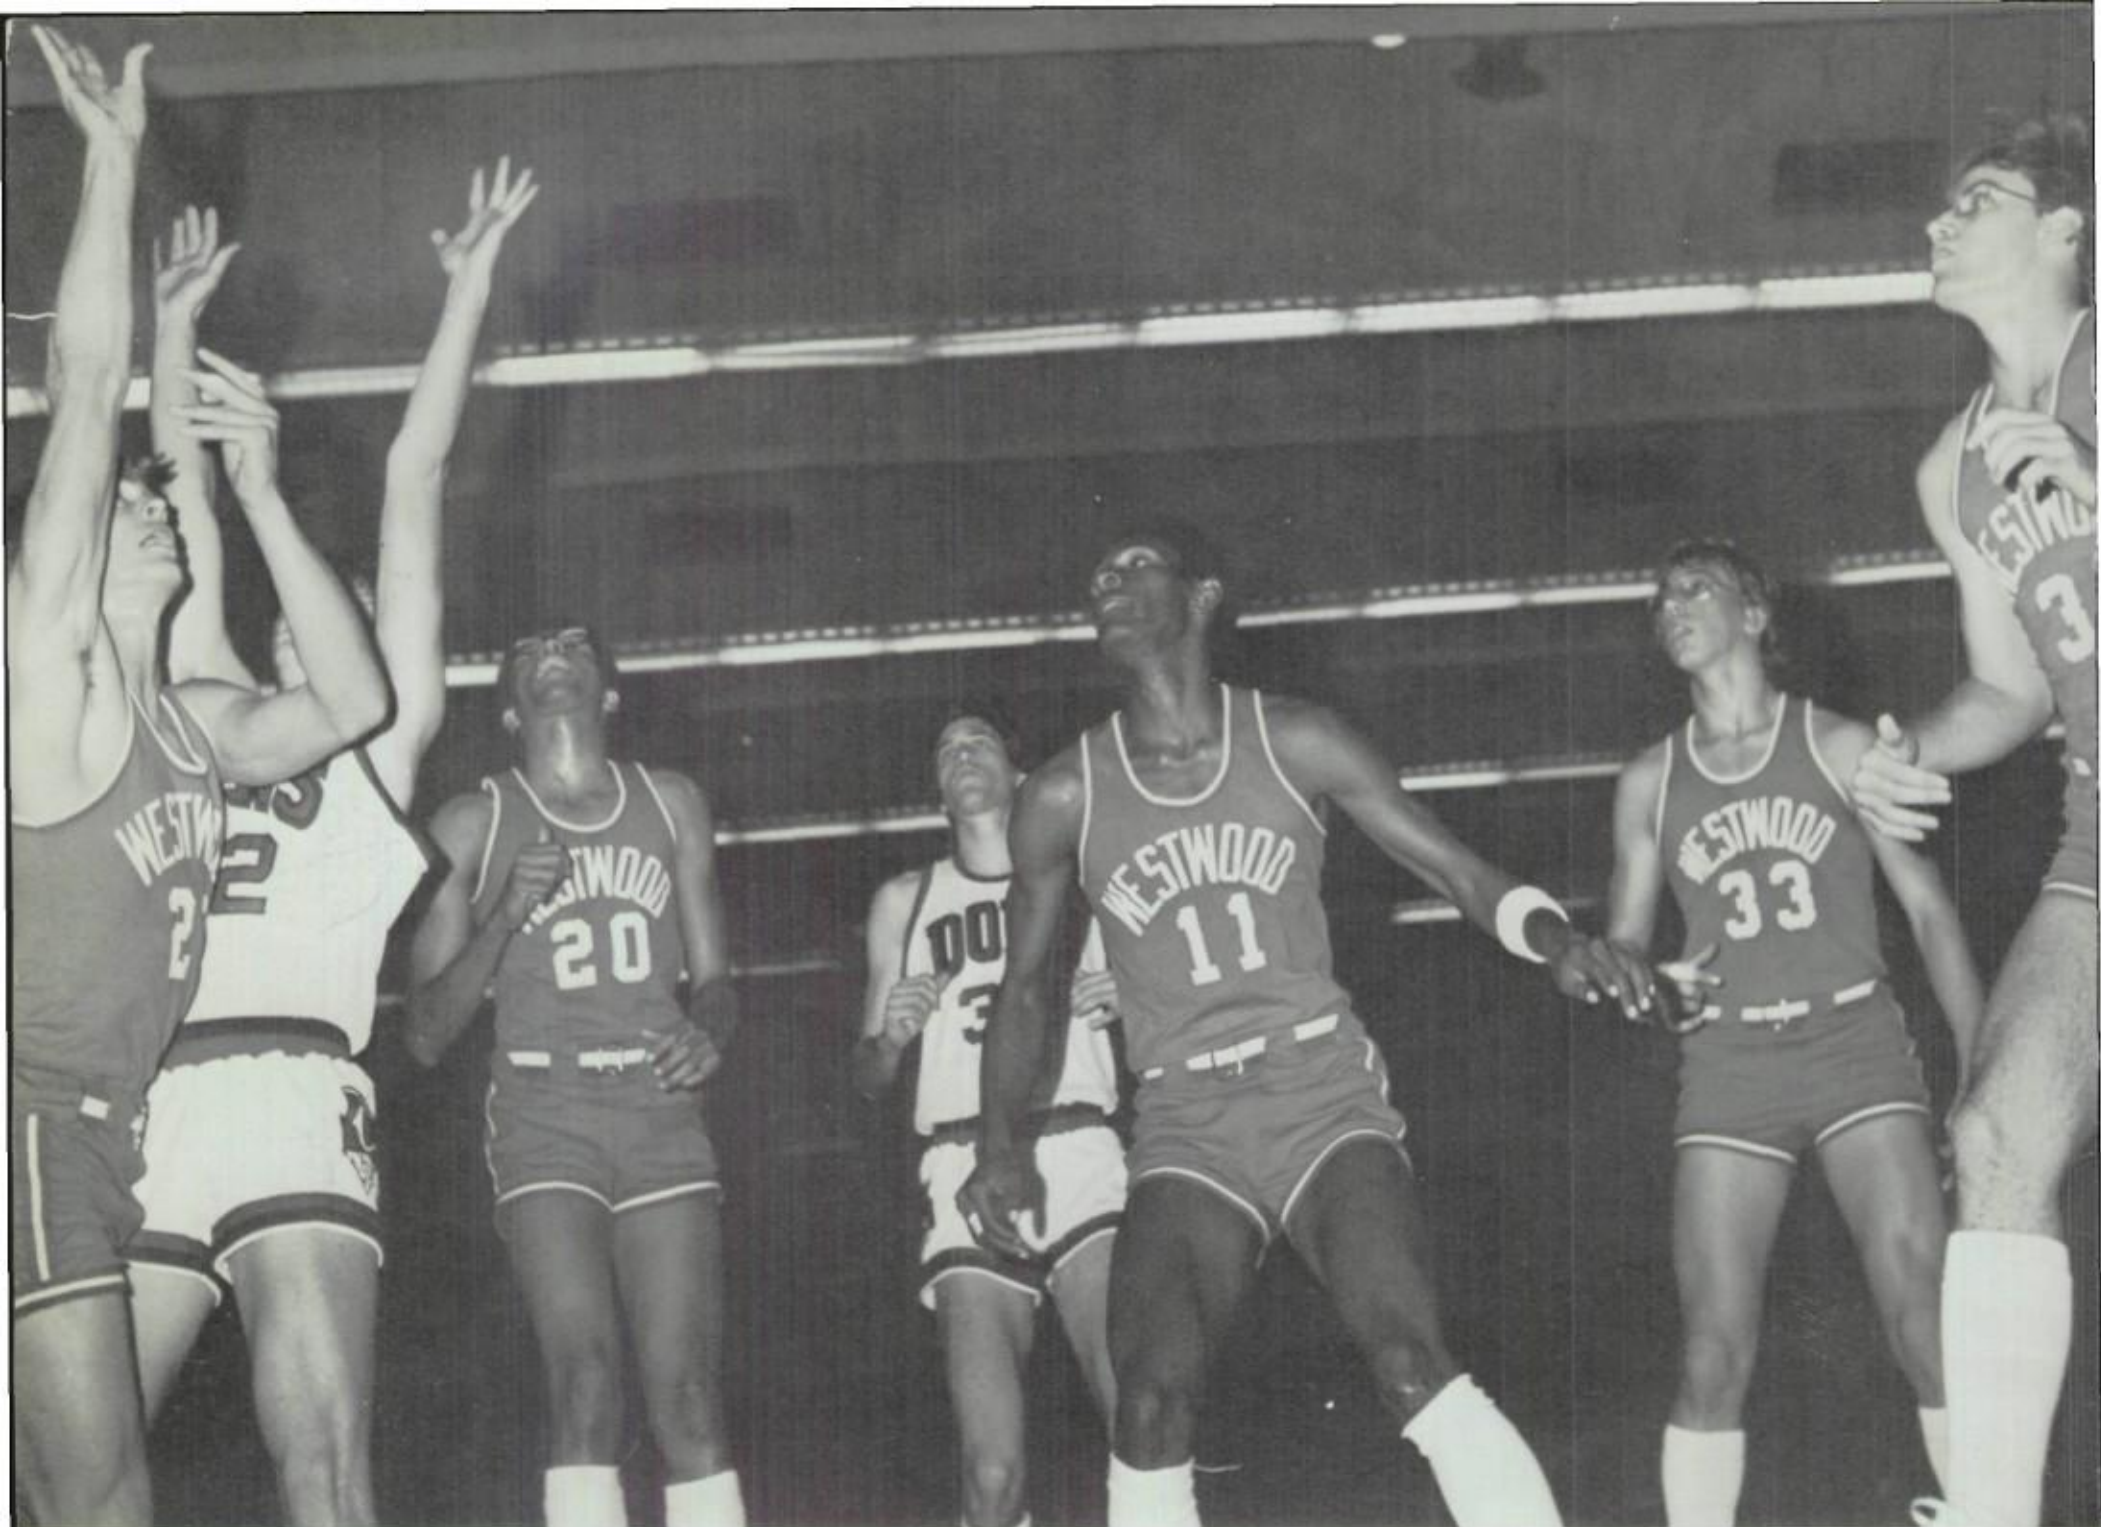

Adding to the stability of the Westwood swim team this year were the freshmen from Kino and Carson who were good enough to catch the watchful eye of Coach Cummins.

Working at meets was a big time job for the swim maids who were under the direction of Mrs. Helen Chellevold. During each meet these girls recorded the times necessary for evaluation.

Warriors Top Mesa

With only one returning starter from the previous year, Coach Bud Doolen turned his young high school team into a 18-4 powerhouse that swept the first place spot in the B league in the regular season.

Although pre-season forecasters picked the Warriors to take a mediocre fourth in their league an unexpected bonus walked through the door in the shape of senior transfer, Kurtis Andrews who helped the Tribe out considerably. But when Westwood gets bonuses they get bonuses. A Second sparkling surprise to Warrior fans was the much improved, Rick Batchelor who earned a starting position halfway through the season.

But as everyone expected it was the sharp-shooting of college bound Brian "Poison" Gatewood who kept the Warriors ahead of the pack. Also giving top notch performances was Scot Krosschell who was dependable for a strong game throughout the season. Krosschell still has one more promising year with the Tribe.

Senior Lance Wynn also made valuable appearances along with juniors, Gerry McClelland, Herb Chinn and Jeff Blau.

Coach Bill Betz' second year as J.V. coach at Westwood turned out well again. Leading his pack of 15-5 players were juniors, Hoover Jones, Mike Shumway, and Dave Udall. Exciting sophomores were Tim Vanda, Rick Jepson and Randy Bennett.

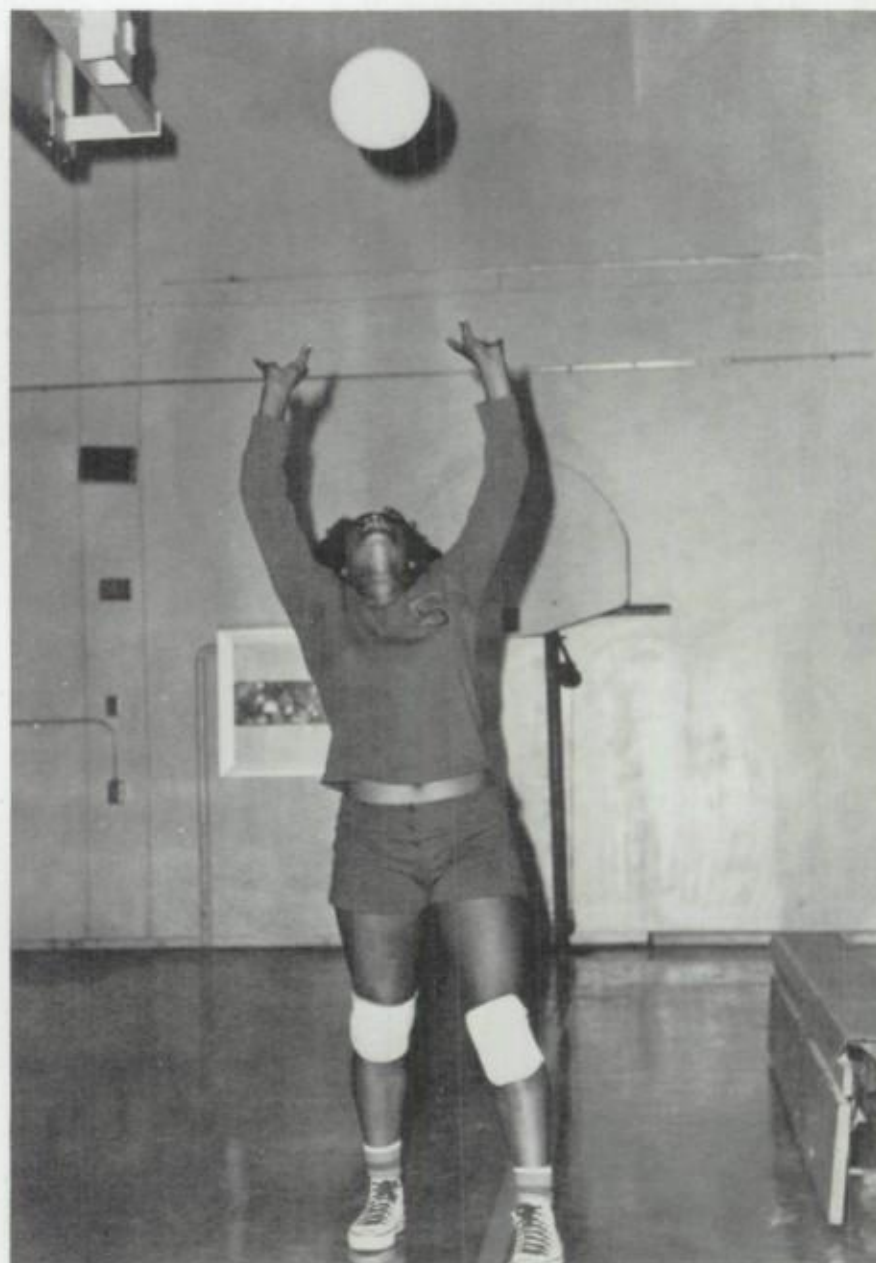

Teams Volley With Victorious Season

The '77-'78 volleyball team had a sensational season with a 10-2 win-loss record. Coach Tominaga said, "This year's team not only played well together, but it took all 12 players the majority of the time to really put the wins together." The team was able to come from behind with scores of 14-4 and 11-1 in two of the seasons matches. "Season wise, we have done the best ever possible to date," claims Coach Tominaga. A 7-0 league record was accomplished as well as the 10-2 season record. Outstanding players were: Collette Christenson, Lavonne O'Banner, Marla Stapley, Mary Schuster, Jori Jackson, Lori Judd and Liz Ashe. This year's team was led by Captain Jori Jackson and Co-captain Lori Judd. The Junior Varsity team did well preparing for next year's season with a 9-3 record.

Golfers Make Par; Nettles Leads Team

Westwood's 1978 Golf teed off to a great season by winning their first match against Casa Grande. This was followed by two victorious invitational tournaments, one at Francisco Grande and the next was against Yuma.

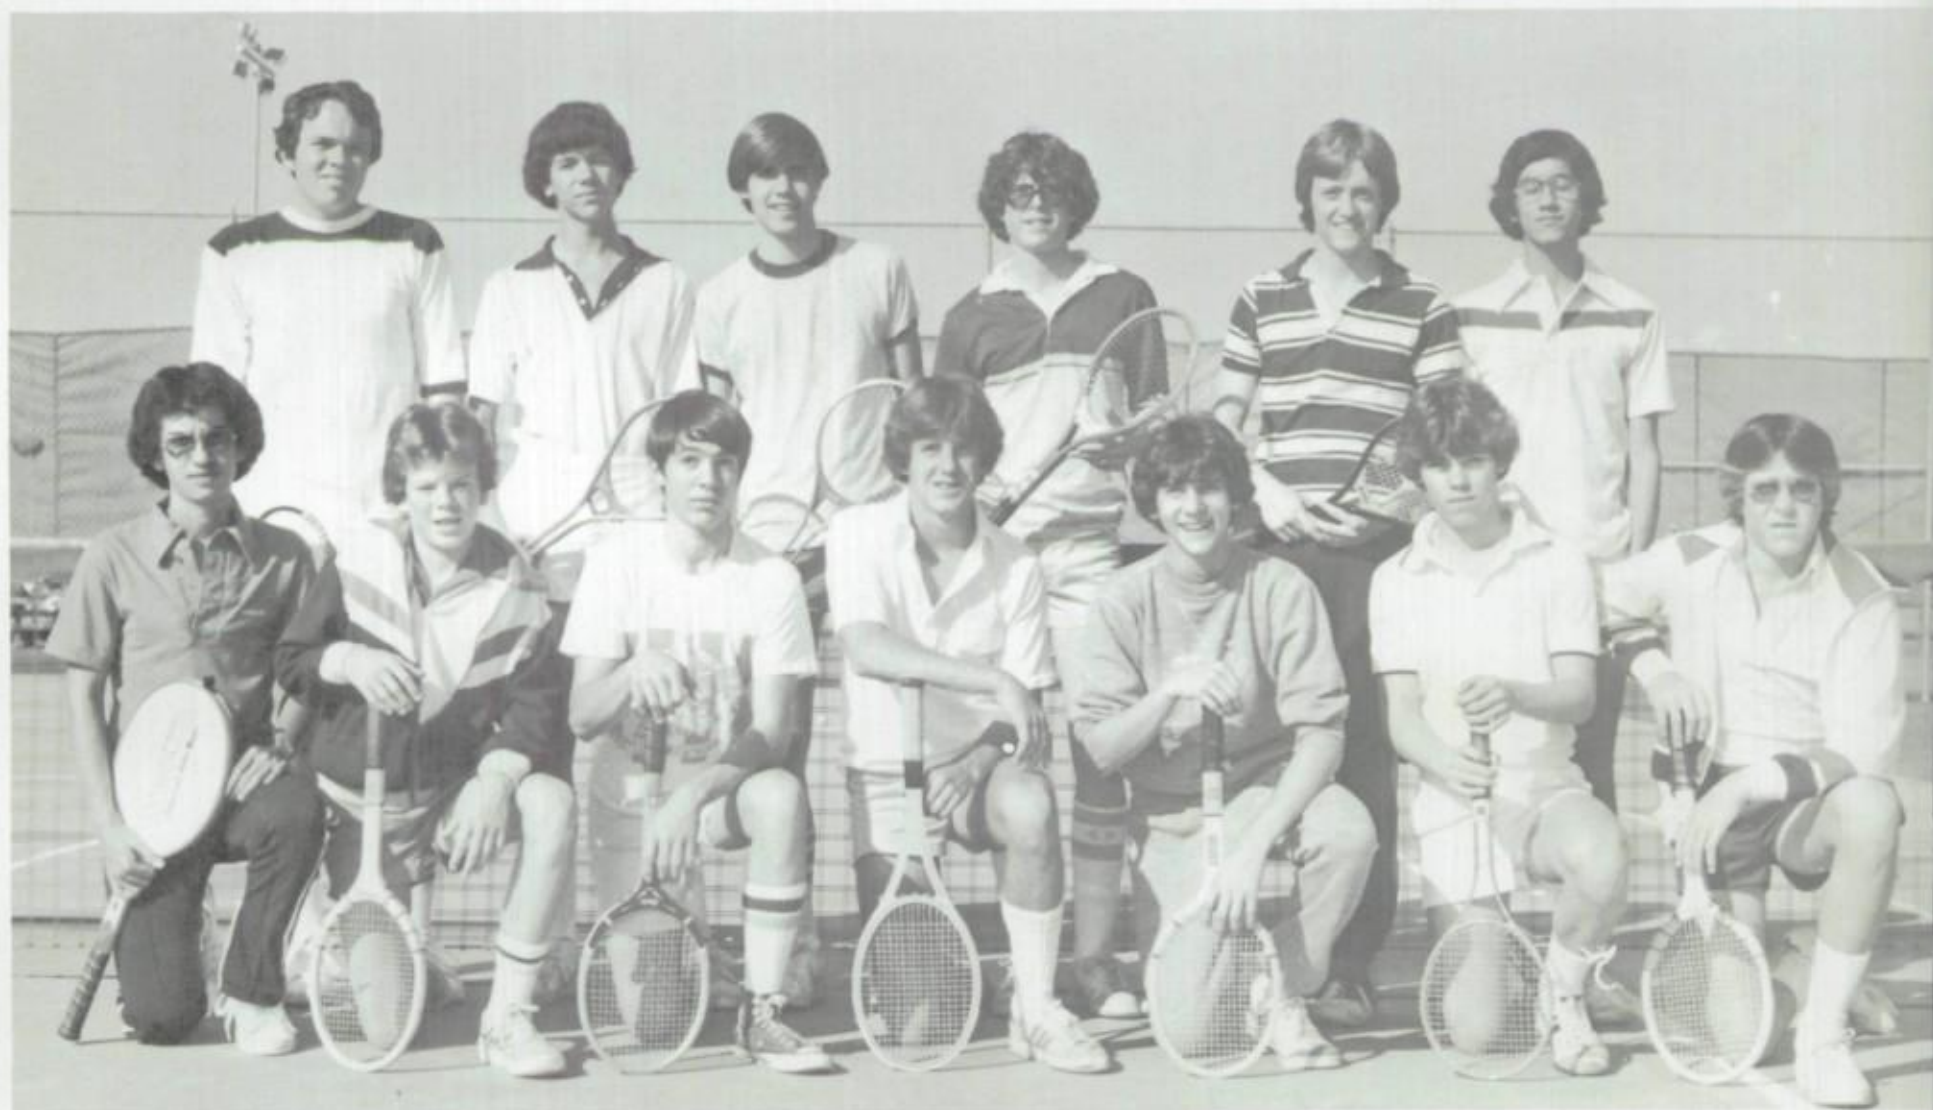

Returning seniors, Phil Nettles and Randy Davis, led the way for the golfers who made problems arise for competitors this year. Mary Tibshraeny was the only girl to make an appearance in the golf league and to represent Westwood as well. Mark Ervin was the team's top junior while Casey Morrison represented the junior class in rare form. Coach Irv Reid took on the responsibility of adding a couple of Freshmen to the team. They were Roger Davis and Donald Manning.

Coach Reid is proud of the fact that he will be strongly supplied the following year by tough juniors and sophomores and last, but not least, the freshmen that helped him out so very much this year. Needless to say, other valley coaches are aware of Westwood's abilities and will have some catching up to do.

Tennis Teams Net Wins; McFarland Leads Pack

Starting the season with some of the state's top-ranked players, Westwood's varsity team opened in perfection, obliterating Mesa High, 9-0. The JV team also won, stunning the Jackrabbits 8-1.

The Warriors, under the direction of Coach Rod Richmond, then started down the warpath, facing their first serious competition midway through the season in the meet against Saguaro. Despite Sabercat hopes to put Westwood out of the running, the Warriors emerged with their state championship prospects undimmed.

Both teams combined to hand crushing defeats to an astonishing number of totally bewildered Warrior foes, and rack up an impressive win-loss record as well. Without a doubt, Westwood can justifiably be proud of these mighty Warriors.

Rackets Roll Onward; Judd Takes Top Honors

Hard work and practice were the main ideas behind this year's Girl's Tennis Team. Practicing everyday after school was successful in helping the girls have an exciting season.

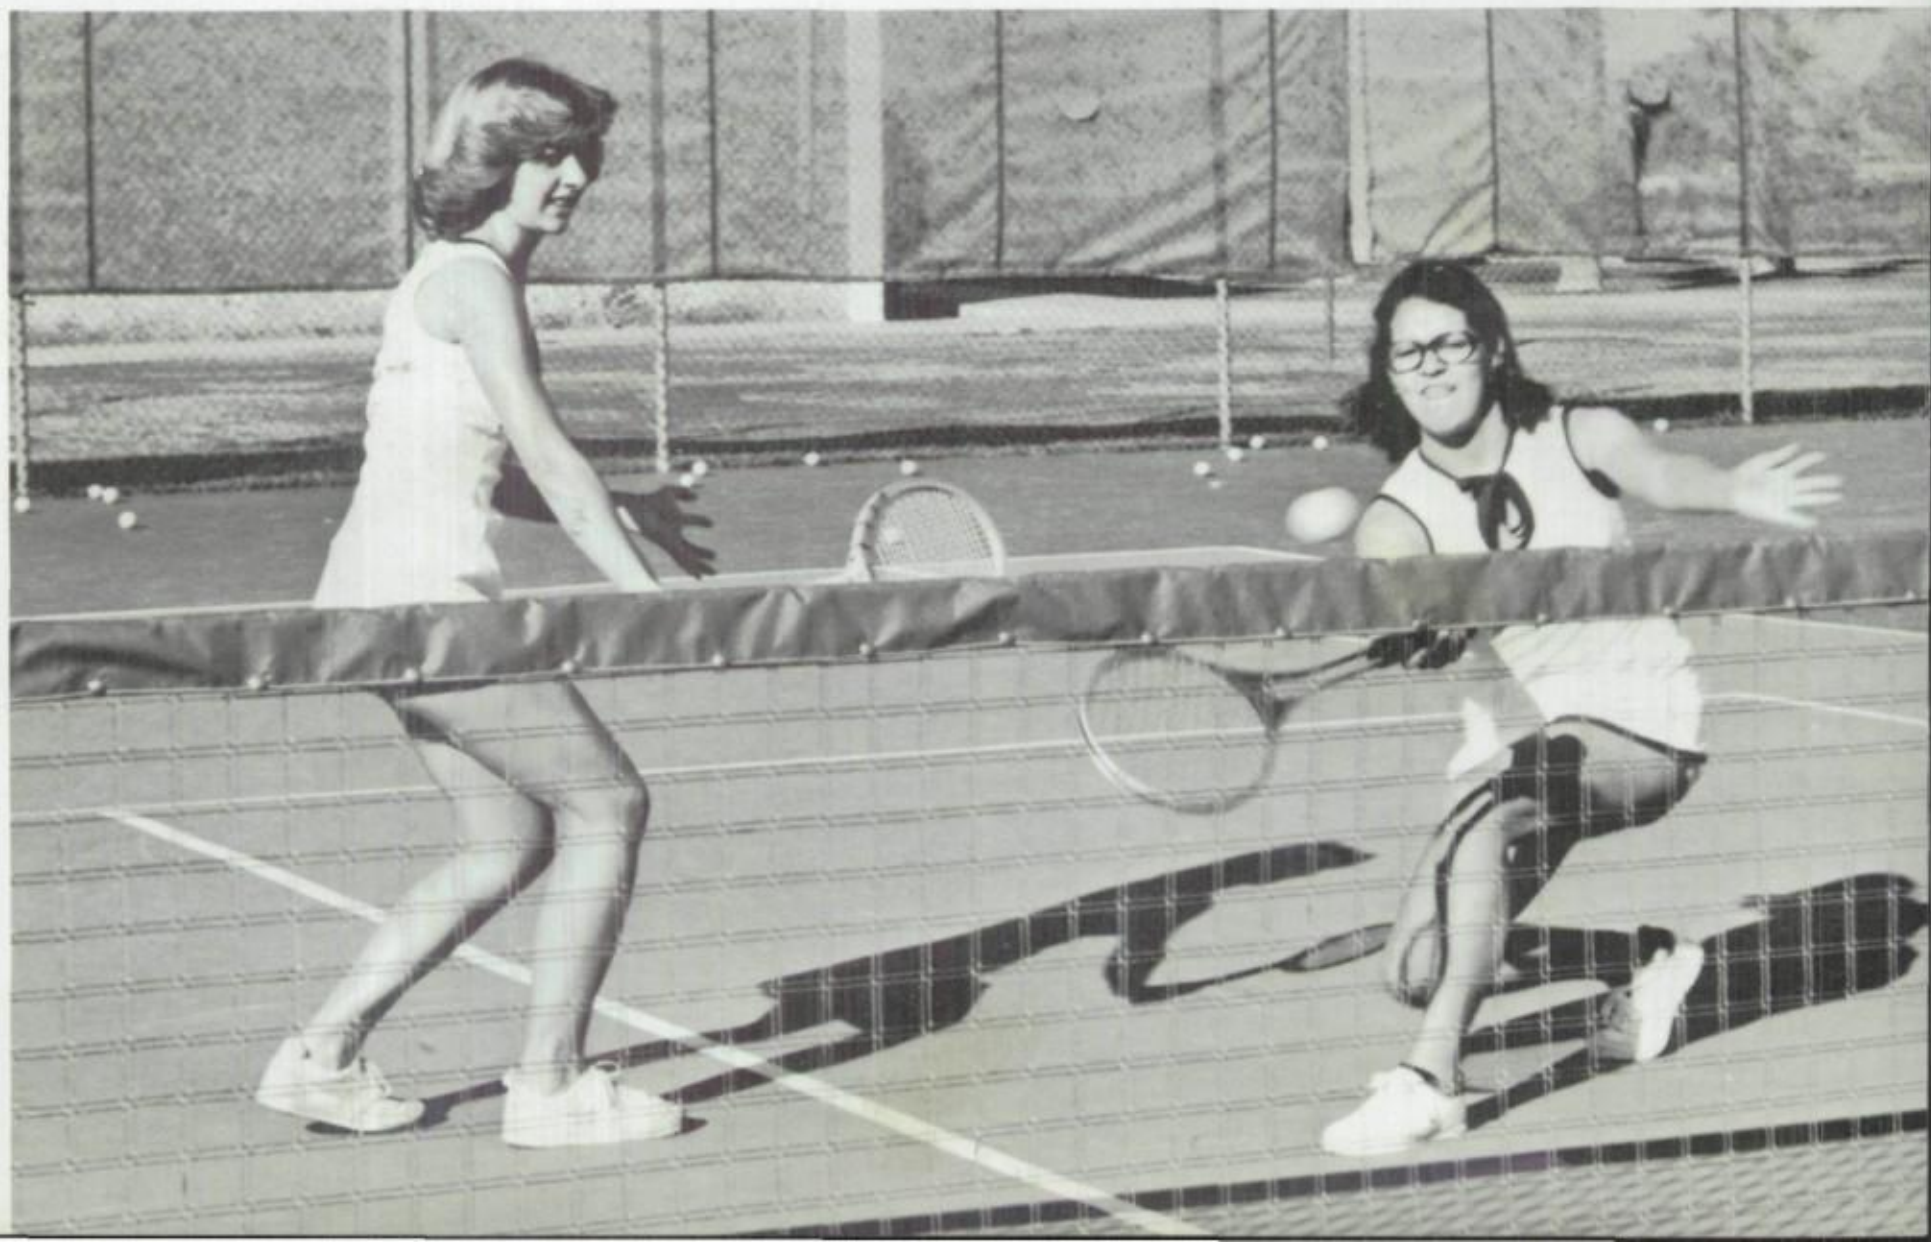

Lori Judd, Tina Alvarez, and Sara Brown were this year's returning varsity players. They played major roles in the team's success. Credit is also due to Robin Carroll, Tammy Clay, Naoma Burnham, fellow starting varsity players.

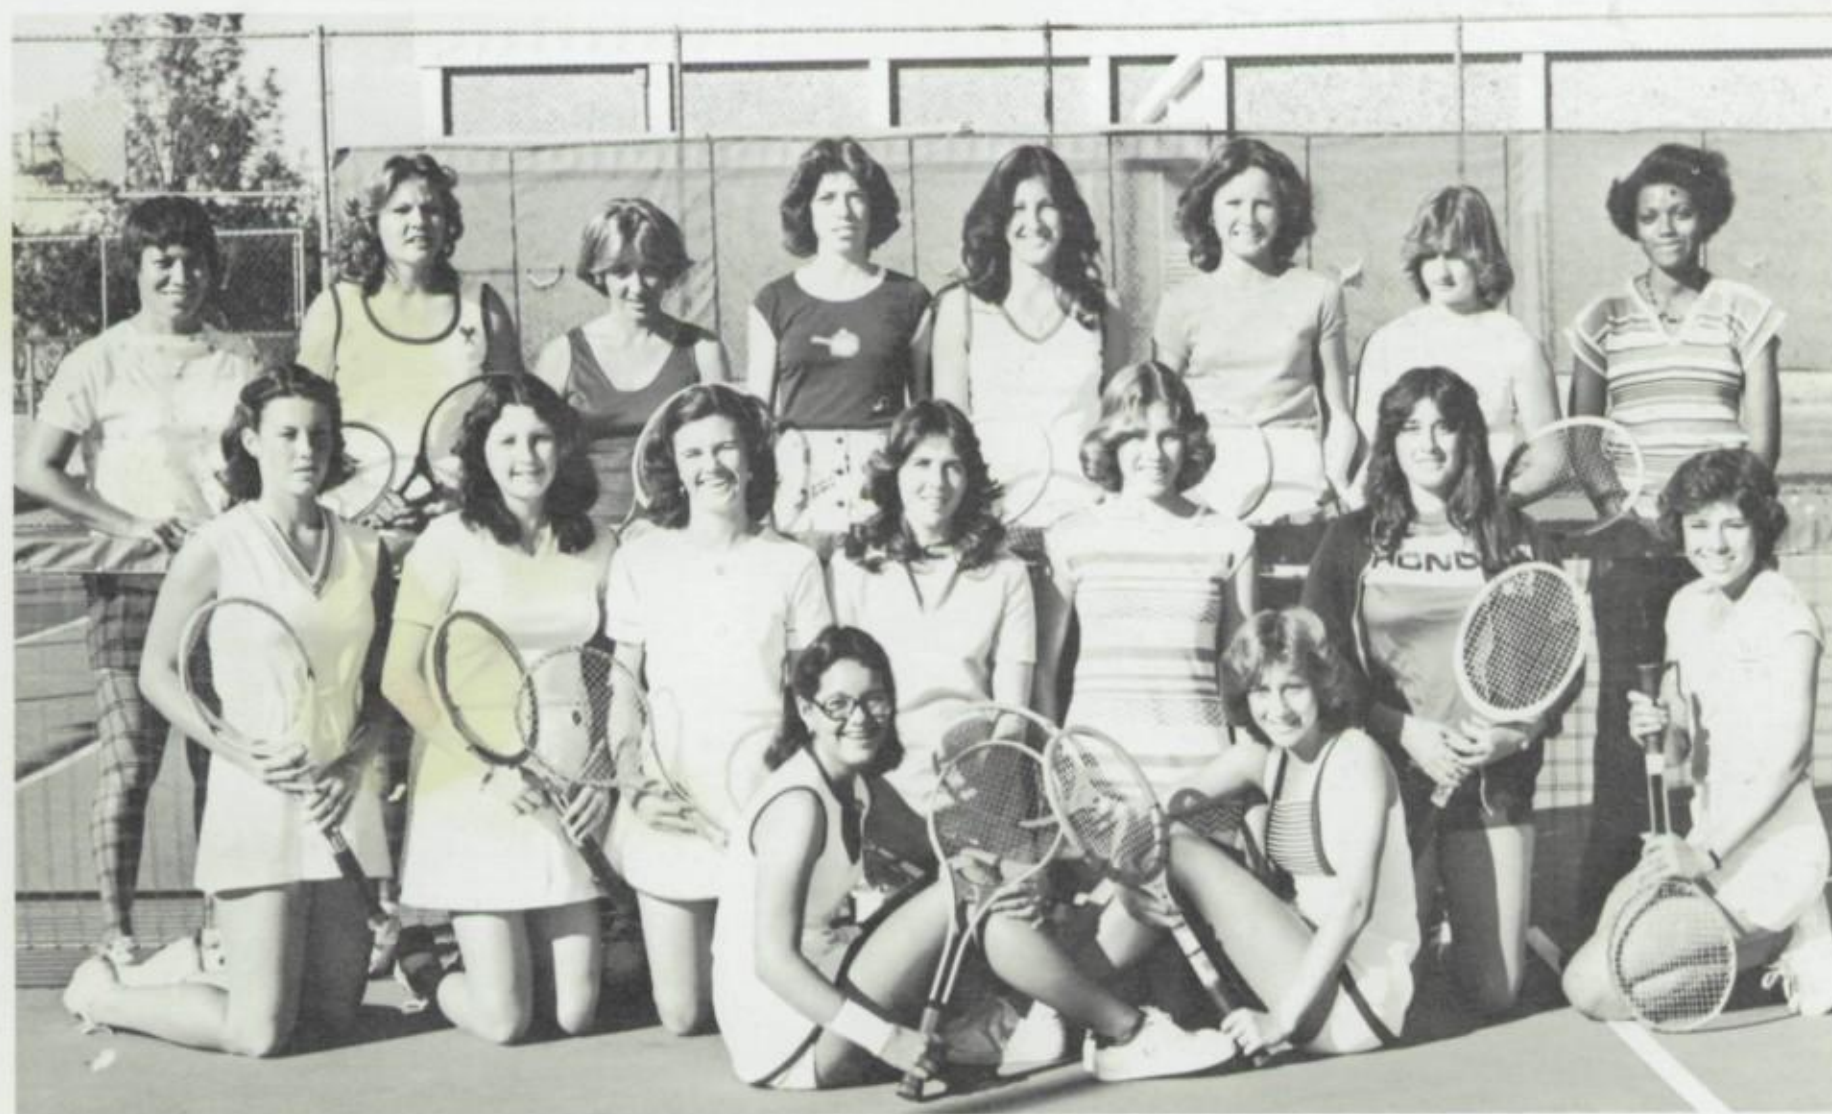

Westwood's Girl's Tennis Team had freshman Marianne Mendil contributing greatly to their achievements. She is currently attending Carson Junior High.

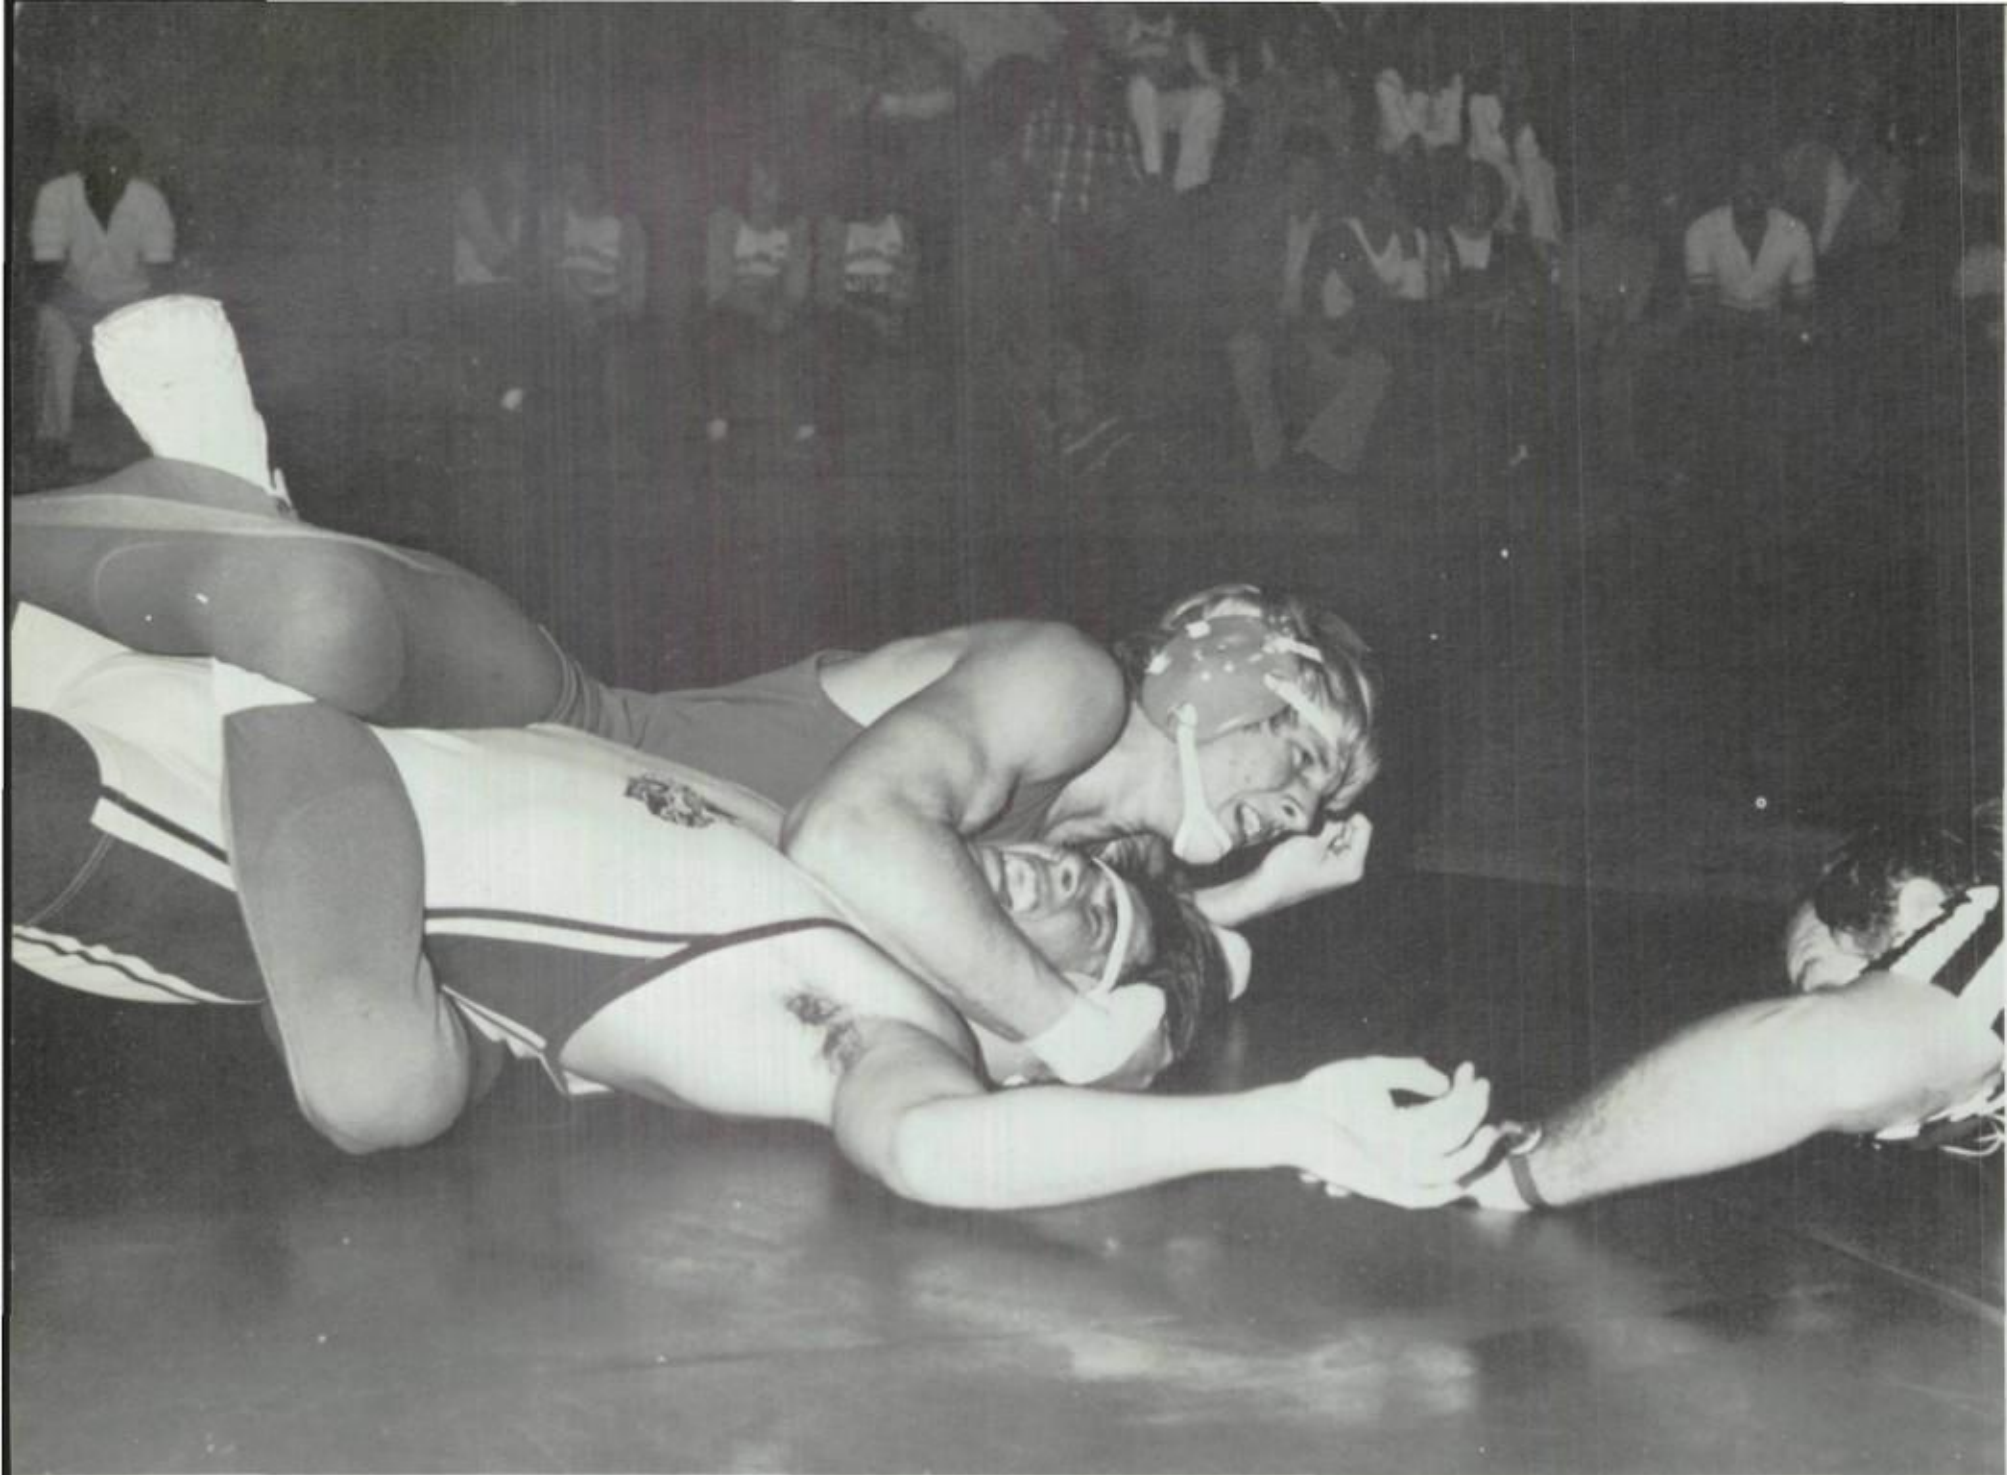

Junior Varsity had a very impressive starting line-up. They were Jeni Blake, Marianne Mendil, Anne Petrie, Kathleen Cramer, Lisa Jaimes, Jodi Crosthwait. Beginning alternates Athena Welch, Wendy Williams, Tammy Stevens, Andrea Adkins showed their skill throughout the year.

Mrs. Munoz, girl's tennis coach, contributed her knowledge and patience all year round to help better the team.

Kelley Pushes Team; Determination Is Key

Although this year's Westwood Wrestling team had a rather disappointing season, many of their losses were very helpful in giving the younger wrestlers experience for the next wrestling season. They ended their season with a 2-8 record, beating Arcadia and Marcos De Niza. Through many long hours of practice and strong determination, members applied their talents and kept giving their best efforts for the team.

Outstanding wrestler, Brian Ray, lead the team in the weight class of 126. Brian ended the season with a final record of 19 wins and 9 losses. Other top wrestlers include Laurell Leavitt, Mike Heywood, Lance Swisher, Ronnie Martinez, and Richard Addams. Each of these men put forth everything they had. This was one reason the Warriors were respected throughout the division.

The young team has many things to look forward to for the coming years. With the return of Laurell Leavitt, Ronnie Martinez, Richard Addams, not to mention very talented junior varsity wrestlers like Eric Hansen, coach Kelley says the Warriors will be one of the top teams in their division.

Tracksters Compete; Object State Title

Boys track move over, the Girls Track team is out to win! When one thinks of speed, Coach Sally Bixby and Al Thomas had nothing to complain about thanks to the many outstanding members of the team, who demonstrated that meets are not won on the basis of one's personal ability, but on that of the team as a whole.

Some of the outstanding members of the team were: Denise Gowdy top in the long jump, relays, and 100 yard dash; Connie Jackson provided to be an outstanding hurdler and long jumper; Shari Dycus was excellent in the mile run as a returnee who placed seventh in state last year; Verna Richardson was a top 880 runner; Wendy Large pulled her weight in the shotput and discus events; and Marla Stapley was once again one of the top Quarter milers in the state.

There were many promising newcomers such as sophomore Cynthia Rhodes who ran relays and competed in high jump; Gwen Anderson who was a shot putter, discus thrower, and sprinter; and Mary Shuster who was a top 880 runner.

Long hours of practice, excellent coaching and the will to do better sustained the girls track team through another grueling season.

Traces of ...
Long hours filled with happy memories.
Working for a goal,
Making a dream a reality.
Putting in that extra something.
Washing one more car,
Selling one more pretzel.
To show all that your club is the best.
Growing together with others,
In a common interest,
Or a mutual talent.
Belonging somewhere,
Within a club.

Students Inspired By Council's Spirit

Westwood's student council undertook many new projects this year. With the aid of senators, they accomplished one of the most remarkable feats of the year, campus beautification. They spent many hours painting garbage cans, fixing up the area around the flag pole and putting some finishing touches on the memorial. Another touch was the appearance of fresh, beautiful, live grass, which, due to the hard work of council, flourished throughout the year.

Council also sparked interest in a new competitive event, the "jamboree", a statewide competition that was held at Legend City. They worked diligently finding many talented students that were eager to participate. Tryouts were held to find the very best person for each event. They then went to the Jamboree and returned with many honors.

Mixing old ideas with new, Westwood Student Council managed to keep spirit high and enthusiasm flowing.

Chieftain Deadlines Kept Staff Occupied

Each year, the members of the Chieftain staff strive to "put out the best book yet" and this year's group may well have done just that.

Headed by Editor Mary Goodchild and her associates Paula Butler, Kathy Swan and Liz Szucs, the yearbook took shape after many hours of dedicated work. Not only were school hours filled with this continuous task, but many weekends were spent "marathoning." The editors and deadline specialists Judy Brodsky, Sheri Lenhart and Mari Skalbeck, not to mention head photographer Danny Duffey who put in an uncountable amount of hours trying to meet pressing deadlines.

The marathoners' as well as staff members have often been heard to swear they saw layout sheets, croppers and grease pencils floating around in their dreams.

But the extra effort was well worth the cost. The satisfaction in seeing "my picture" or "my copy" in print is absolutely priceless.

Couples Calculated; Black Lace New Trend

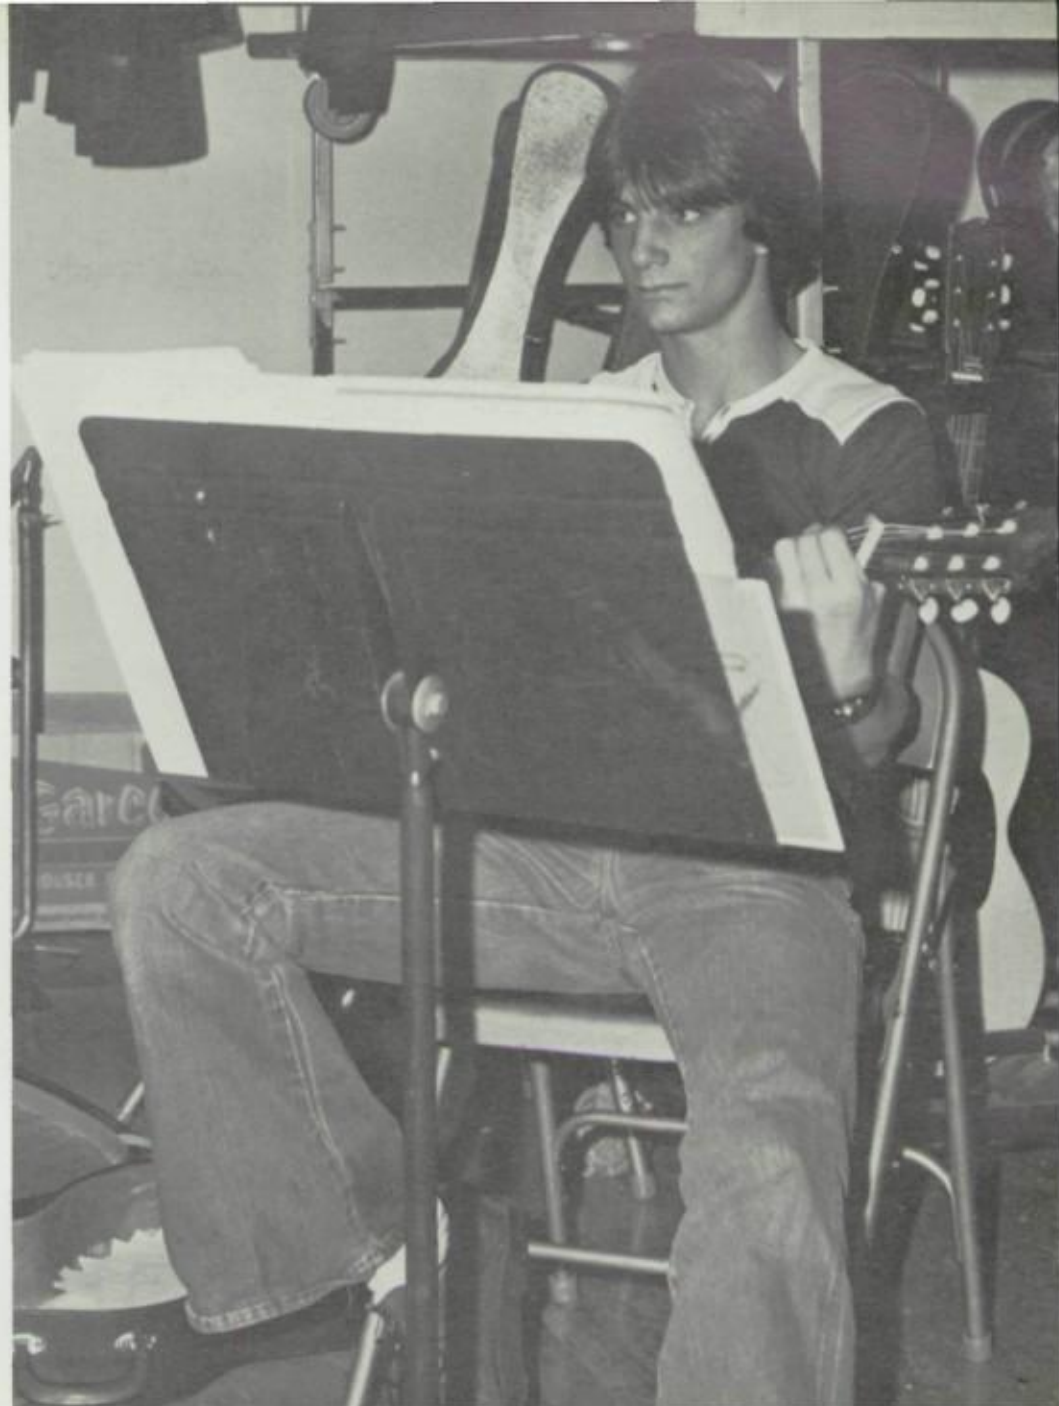

This year marked the formation of many new clubs on the Westwood campus. One of the newest clubs was the Black Lace Garter Society whose goal was to promote interest in instrumental music. The BLG was originally made up only of Warrior Band members, but the fad of wearing a black garter on one's arm soon reached orchestra players. All members of the BLG made it a point to attend concert performances whether they were involved or not. The group demonstrated spirit by constructing posters and banners promoting musical concerts. The club sponsor, Mr. William Engelsman, explained how the club "provided a needed service for instrumental music."

This year's Computer club, sponsored by Mrs. Connie Gruber, opened to outsiders and worked to make students more interested in the computer world. For the serious minded there was a trip to the Mesa Public School Data Processing Center where they saw computers that are widely used today. For more competitive students there were games programmed into the computers like STARWARS, STARTREK and DEARON that offered a challenge. The club delved once again into the world of computer dating services by sponsoring a dance for couples it had brought together.

Small Staff Unites To Publish News

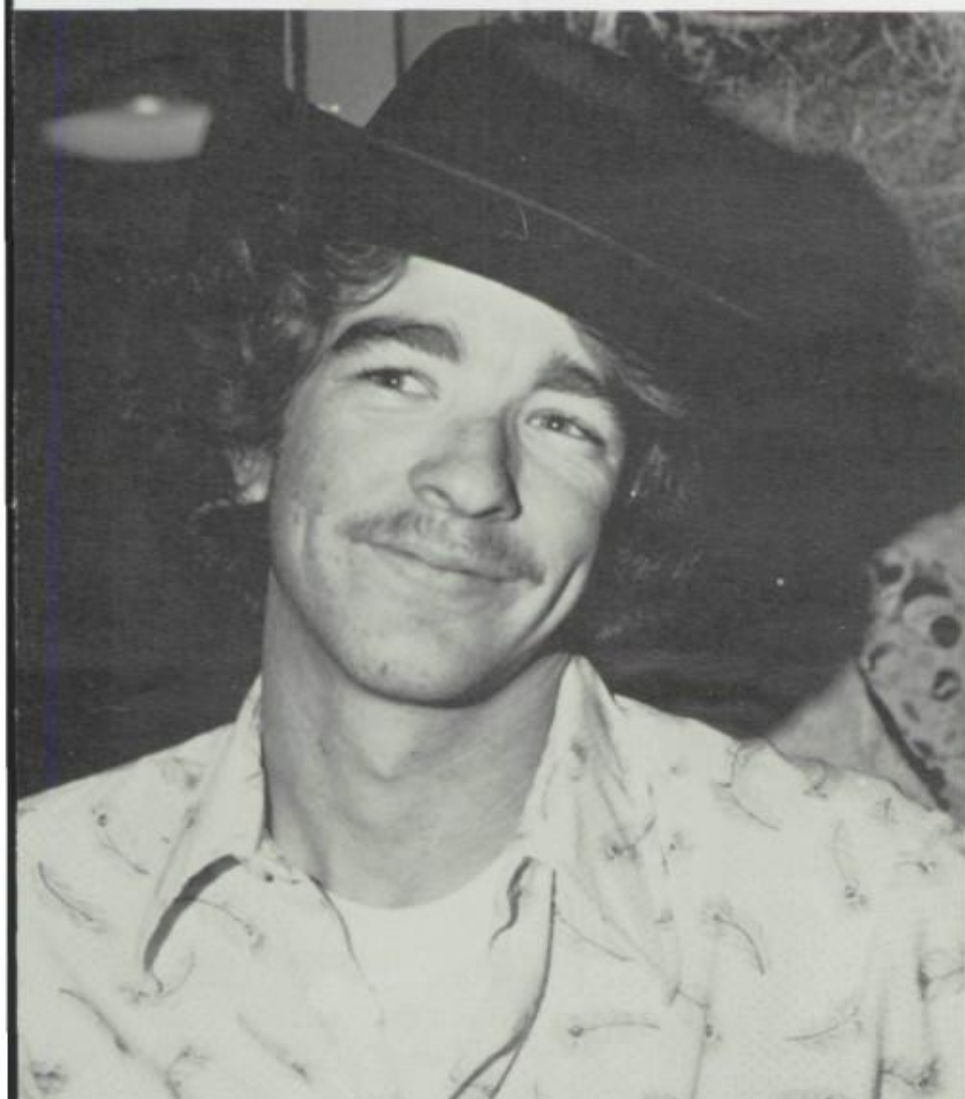

If "small but mighty" is a true expression, then one can bet his bottom dollar that the War Chant staff lived up to expectation. Only nine people were in class regularly to put out the fifteen issues of the school paper.

Guest writers' stories were used to help make up the three hundred inches of news which were published in each issue, while regular staff members came to expect that they'd be writing two or three stories for each paper.

The class members did more than just write stories. They had hamburger frys, swimming parties, went to Oakland A's games, and at the end of the year a banquet was held as well. Selling candy canes, taking inventory at J.C. Penney's and selling big pictures, were just some of the fun type activities the group was involved in.

Top Musical Talents Make Vibrant Groups

The charisma of the Honor Choir, and the successfulness of the Intonaire was evident throughout the 1977-78 year at Westwood.

Both of the groups' musical talents were shared throughout many parts of the Southwest. They began their eight-day tour in geographical locations such as Southern California, Nevada, and concluded their travels in Provo, Utah.

In order to finance the groups' trip, they had many fund-raising projects such as selling spirit buttons before sports events, selling tickets to Legend City, performing at Trailer Parks, Kiwanis and Rotary Club gatherings, and at the Centennial Fair. The final fund-raising event included an exceptionally well performed concert previewing their tour show.

Furthering their musical talents, choir members participated in the Regional festival, and some continued on to the All State festival.

Concluding an exceptional year, the proud groups proved that they were very hard working, talented, and devoted students.

Concert Choir Sings Their Way To The Top

Westwood's Concert Choir extended their talents by performing a variety of modern and classical music. This year, along with their annual Spring Sing, they performed for the first time their Christmas Cantic in Carols without accompaniment. They gave two performances, both with very good audience turn-outs.

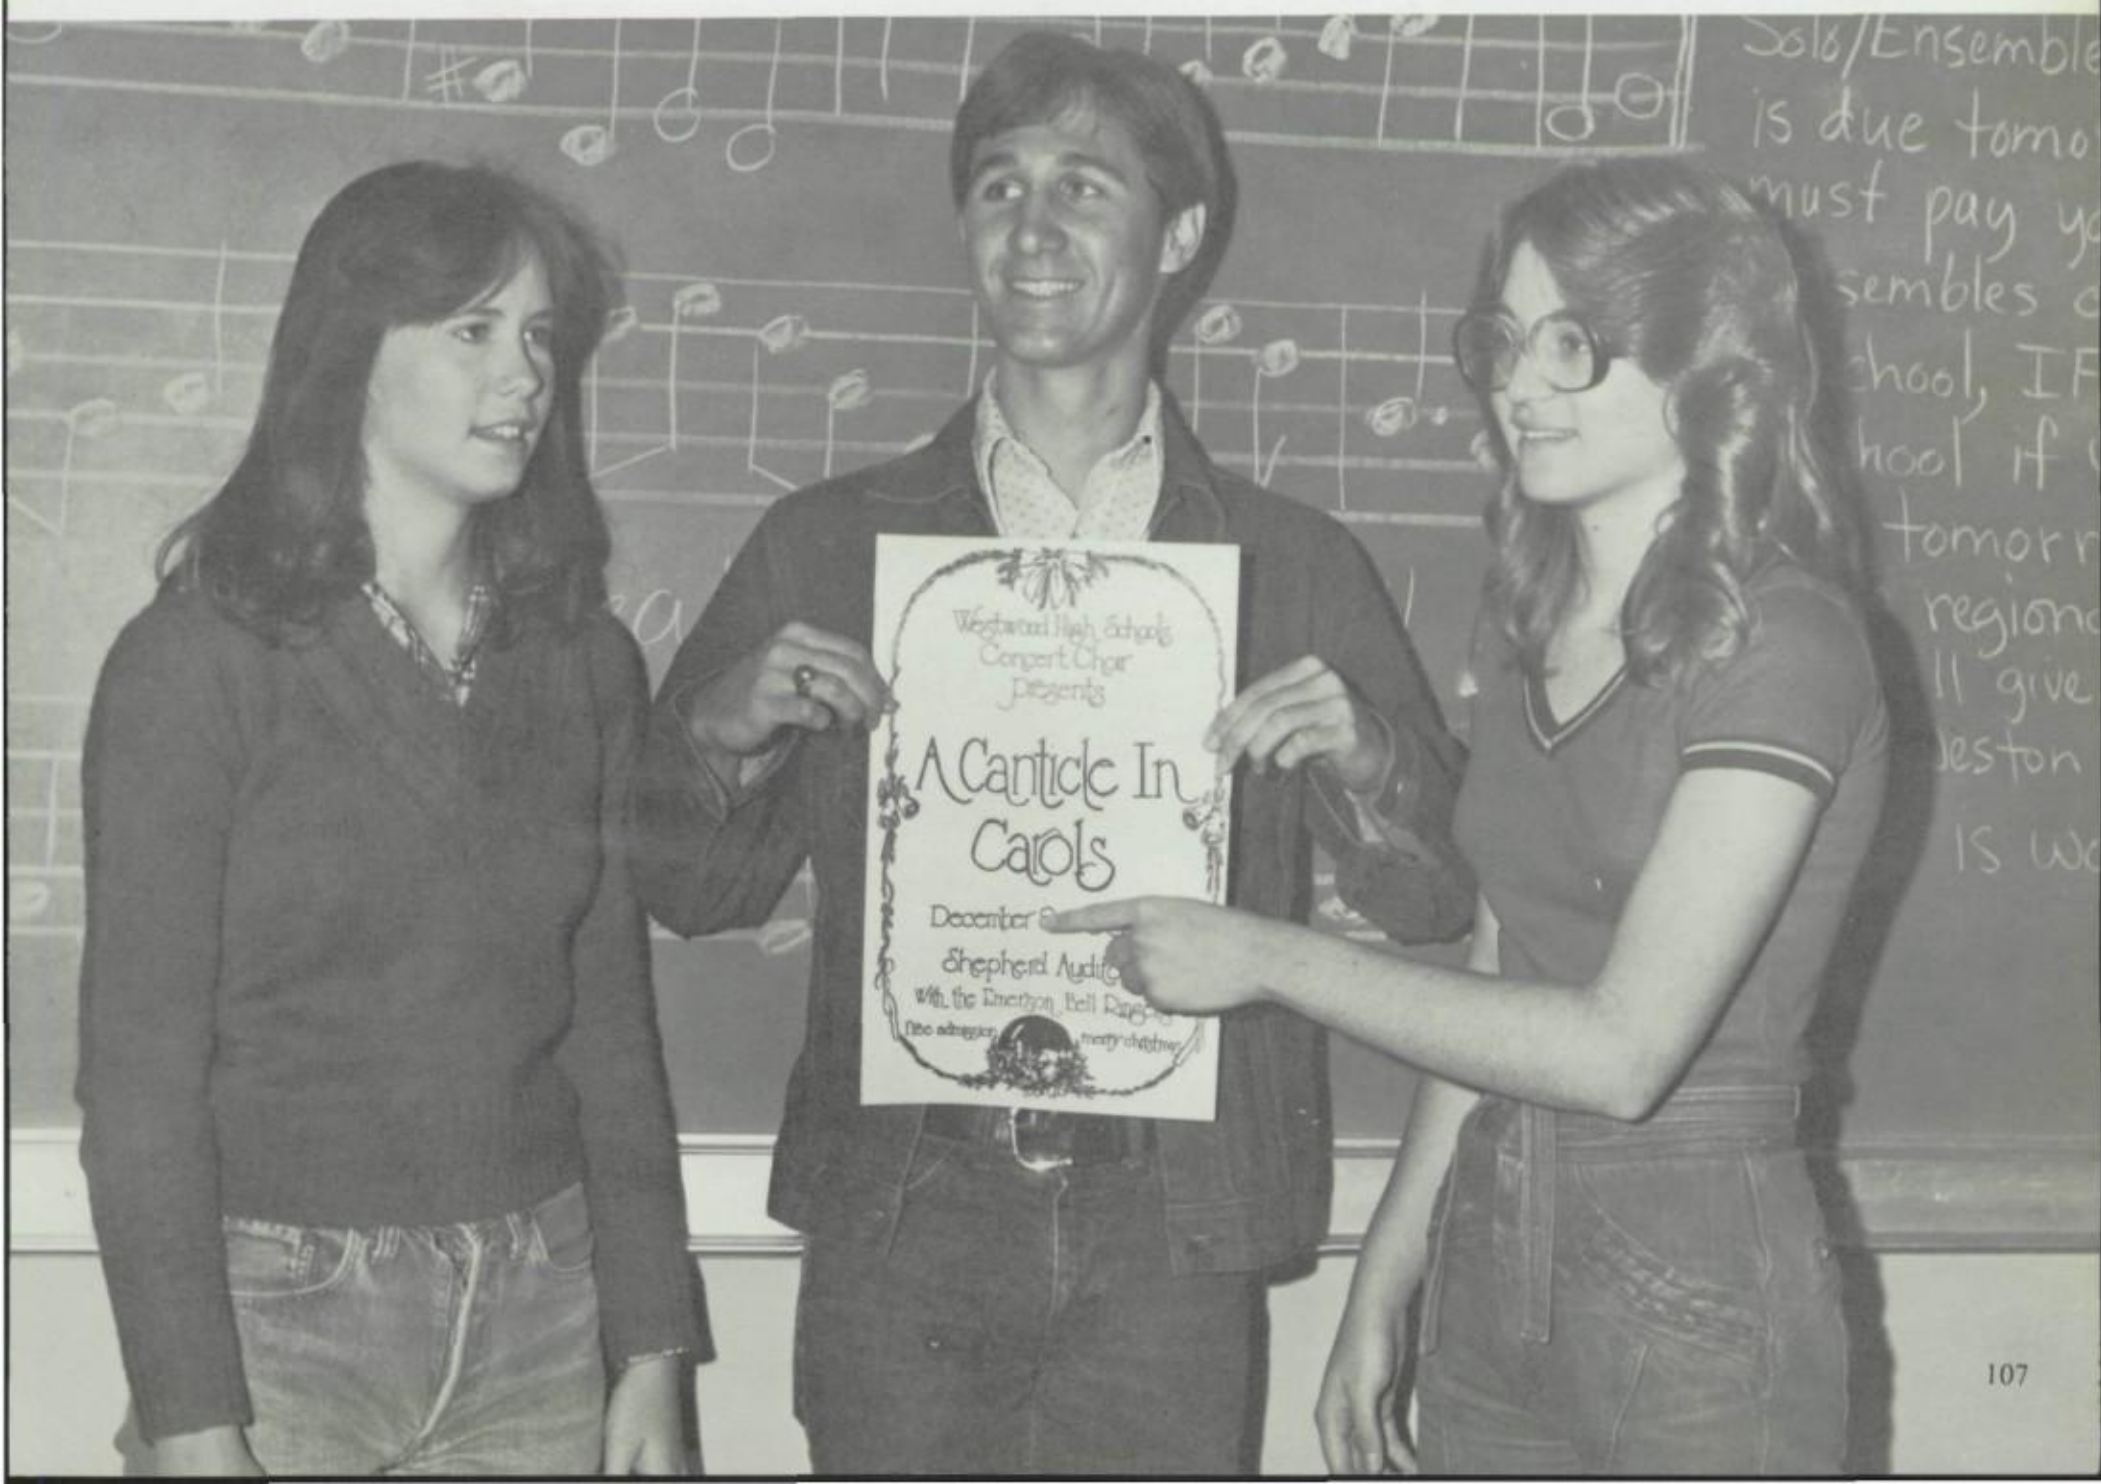

The Concert Choir consisted of 65 members. Under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth White, they sang at school assemblies and appeared across the state. Highlighting their travels was a tour to Northern Arizona.

Mrs. White worked with these younger singers so that they would have an excellent performance to present. These young people had put in many hard hours perfecting their work so that their audiences would enjoy their performances.

All of these students have done an excellent job in reflecting their talents upon themselves and to Westwood High.

Orchestra Superior; Musicians Harmonize

Along with the regularly scheduled performances for parents and student assemblies, the Westwood Symphony Orchestra put out an extra effort to play at a variety of places throughout the valley.

As always, members tried out for Regional orchestra and made up the greatest portion of the group. Every member of the Westwood orchestra was also encouraged to participate in the solo and ensemble festival where Westwood had more people trying out than any other high school.

The group, as a whole, also participated in festivals. They appeared at the Mountain States Festival at ASU and, as in past years, came out with superior ratings. A trip to NAU for a music festival was also taken with the band. Funds to cover these expenses were earned by members who sold the traditional candy, cheese and sausage and, for the first time, tickets to a Phoenix Suns' basketball game.

Showcase Shines; Jazz Band Boogies

Hard work, talent, and dedication were major factors in producing the great sounds of Jazz Ensemble and Showcase Strings.

Jazz ensemble, consisting of twenty-one members, was directed by Mr. Bob Cunningham. Each member gave up his own time to represent Westwood at jazz festivals, elementary and junior high schools, Mesa's Pre-Centennial Fair, and many school concerts. Through hard work the ensemble upheld their reputation as one of the best jazz bands in the state.

Showcase Strings, under the leadership of William Engelsman, put forth an exceptional effort towards a busy and successful year. The group of nineteen performed at hotels, trailer parks, conventions, festivals, and elementary schools in hopes of promoting the string program. It seemed that nothing could stop these talented Warriors from striving for perfection.

Band Members Boogie Bring A-1 Rating Home

Throughout the year, the Warrior Band participated in several festivities. "Even though the band was smaller in size than in past years, the members got their jobs done very well," commented director Bob Cunningham.

The Warrior Band took part in such activities as the ASU Band Day, in which they received superior ratings, the Fiesta Bowl Parade in December and the NAU Music Festival. Heading the marching season was Drum Major, Delane Davidson, Majorette Lorie Higgins and mascot John Biggs.

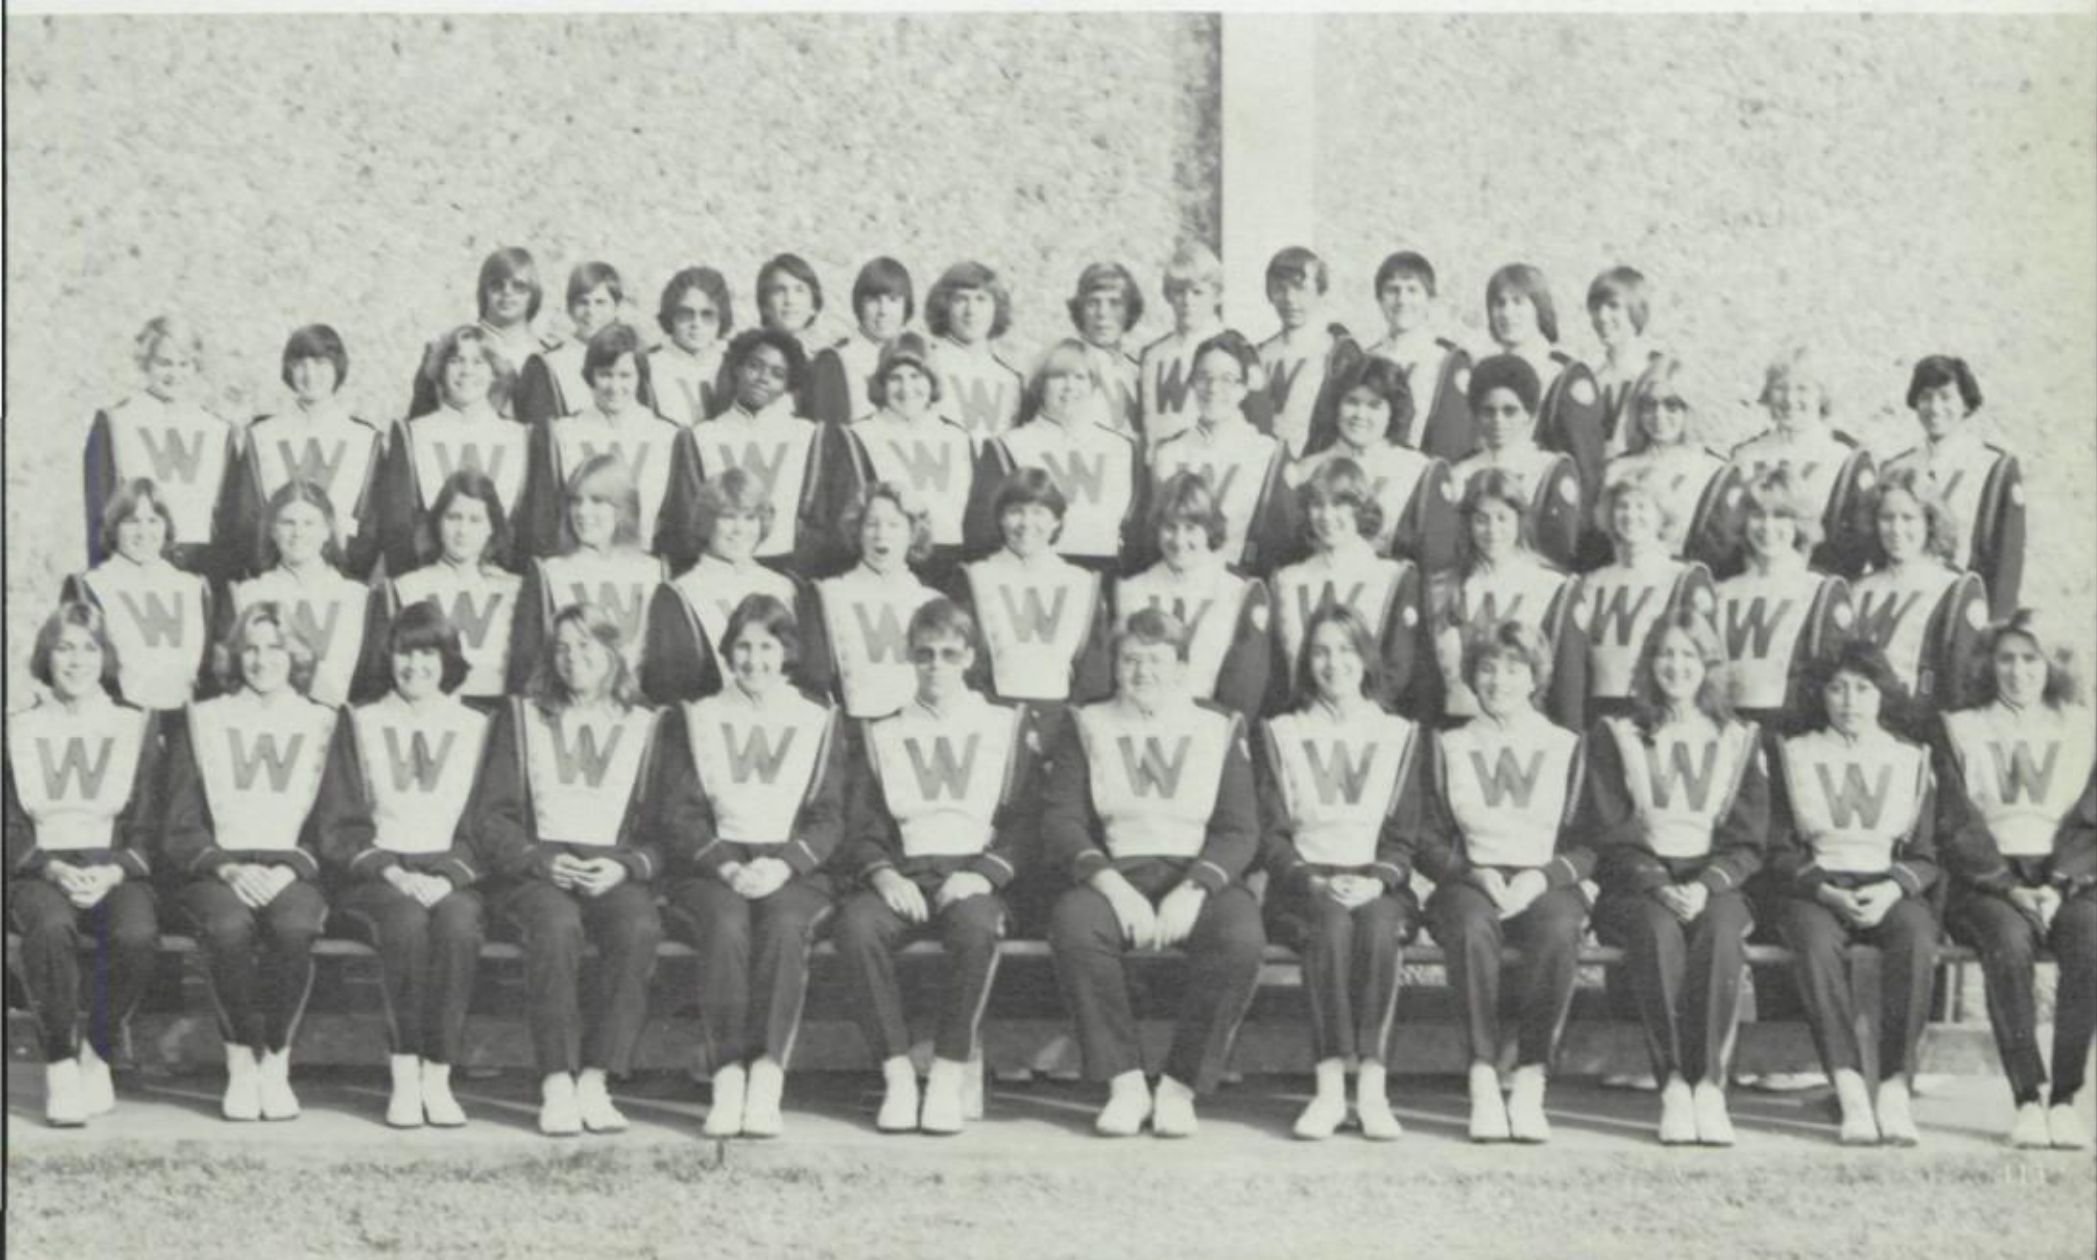

To raise money for activities the members sold cheese and sausage during the fall and they sold tickets to the Phoenix Suns basketball games in January. All in all, every section worked hard to contribute to the fine quality of the band.

Apache Band Is Tops; Attended Festival

The Apache Band marched their way to success this year as the members tooted and banged their instruments to perfection. The band performed in several pre-game shows for the varsity football games as well as parades, concerts, and assemblies.

This year the band tried something new. They played for all the J.V. home football games. This contributed a great deal to game spirit and gave the band a little extra practice at the same time.

The N.A.U. Music Festival was a major project undertaken by the band during the school year. They represented Westwood very well, and as in the past, they received a superior rating.

"The Sophomores were a great asset to the band this year," commented band director, Bob Cunningham. Not only were they talented but very enthusiastic as well." Mr. Cunningham also remarked that "he would be looking forward to working with them again next year, whether it be in Warrior or Apache Band."

Talented Thespians Mix Drama With Fun

Masque and Dagger is one of the larger branches of the drama clubs that belong to the International Thespian Society. The club was designed to cater to the needs of individuals participating in the drama field.

The Masque and Dagger club had a booth in the Thai Chewee week contest, which consisted of two glittered masques representing the two aspects of drama, comedy and tragedy, along with props symbolizing the other fields of drama. Auditions were held for entrance into the club and new members were chosen. An inductions ceremony was held for members and their families. Throughout the year, members were encouraged to try out for plays and many of these individuals were seen not only in school and class sponsored plays but in various ones around the valley. A party was held at Halloween featuring the the movie "Psycho". One act plays were held in the spring and the troupe appeared at Marc School during Christmas to put on shows and amuse the children.

The club also offered active support in Mesa by ushering and helping in Mesa Little Theater, MCC, and all school productions.

Girl's Letter Club Is Given Top Honors

Cheerleaders, Warriorettes, or any other girls who obtained a Varsity Letter in any of the various spring or fall sports at Westwood were eligible for the Girl's Letter Club. The two semi-annual banquets were held after the fall and spring sports came to a close.

Money raising projects included selling M&M candies and discount coupons. These coupons were sold to the public for reduced rates in various restaurants and shops in Mesa. These funds were then used to purchase new equipment for the girls' sports department. Sponsors for the group were Miss Sally Bixby, Miss Yolanda Munoz, and Mrs. Joyce Tominaga.

FFA Gathers Honors; Wood-Cut A Success

Future Farmers of America filled this year with many new and annual activities. The big event of the year came with the annual FFA woodcut. Held in Young, Arizona, the event attracted a hundred members, including for the first time, girls. Accompanying the students on the trip were adult sponsors.

The three man membership of the State Meat Team got the opportunity to test their talents at the National Convention held in Kansas City. The Cotton team placed second in their competition.

Besides social events, FFA members held many fund raising projects such as a car wash, a canned food drive and a toy drive, with all proceeds going to charity.

A dance and barbeque were also included in the year's events. An end of the year banquet was held in Westwood's cafeteria for members. The invitation was also extended to their parents. Guest speakers recapped the year's activities and projected plans for future years.

Hustlers Promote A Casual Way Of Dating; SAE Members Aim For Proper Education

This year Student Action for Education took on a lot of big projects working to make their club the best. SAE members became more aware of the world around them by inviting many interesting speakers to their meetings, such as the YMCA ministry and some social workers. They also held an exchange day with Coronado High School members, gaining insight as to how other SAE groups function.

This club selected a teacher of the month and from these picked a teacher of the year. A picnic was held to honor that teacher and present the award.

SAE met once a month. Officers who presided over these meetings were President Jack Porr, Vice-President Robin Pettegrew, Treasurer Chris Calvin, Secretary Virginia Fournier, and Sponsor Craig Cummins.

Big #2. Yes, for the second straight year Hustlers International, formed early in the fall and under the able leadership of Danille Shihady and Brian Nissen, started out right by doing good things not only for themselves, but for others too. When the National hoop shoot contest was held here in Mesa, it was the Hustlers who did the judging and helped all the little kids do their best. Valentine's Day, of course, was a biggy because the Hustlers aided in sending messages of love among the students of Westwood. The Hustlers were distinctive in their attire for they had an emblem that would stand for Hustlers International, for now and forever.

Chess; Science Fiction Prove To Be Great

The Chess Club consisted of people who got together before and after school; and during lunch to battle against each other using their knowledge of chess and learning new chess strategies. Members participated in the Round Robin Chess Tournament to compete against anyone from another school and around the state. Chess Club is the strategy of making moves before they are ever needed; it takes time to learn even the basics of chess. Officers of the club were Mike Droll, President; Pete Duca, Vice-President; Travis Cubley, Treasurer. Chess Club was sponsored by Mr. Scanell.

Science Fiction Club was one of the educational clubs here at Westwood High. Some of their service projects were to collect books and then sell them at a lower price than retail. They have attended a few learning conventions during the year. Each day science fiction members watched a fiction or non-fiction movie. After they were done watching the films they would talk about the way they were made and the purpose of each film. The club would watch these films during lunch in Room 202. Everyone from Westwood was invited to watch these films. The club met everyday. The club officers were Chris Mathews, President; Peter LaMantia, Vice-President; Michael Slaughter, Treasurer; Scott Hall, Secretary; Mark Arnett, Publicity Officer.

Gingerbread House Thai Chewee Project

Foreign languages come in many exciting varieties, and Westwood has been fortunate to have two fine clubs representing the French and German branches. These clubs not only helped members to improve their translating abilities but also got them very involved.

The very active German Club, started off the year with a Gingerbread house which enabled students to sign up for the club during Thai Chewee week. The house was later donated to the Sunshine Acres Childrens Home. They also attended an October festival sponsored by the German American Society. The Salvation Army toy drive and selling candles at Christmas, were some projects to help raise money.

The French club was equally active and began their year by participating in the National French Contest and holding a banquet during Foreign Language week. Concessions were sold at the Falcon Field Air Show to raise money for scholarships. French culture exhibits and movies were shown throughout the year along with parties and social get togethers.

Key Club Governs; Debators Compete

It isn't every day of the week that students of high school age get to elect a governor - in fact a whole congress, yet that's just what happened this past year when members of the Key Club got together and held a state convention. The club was organized to help the members understand and participate in a model legislature, with one of the members being elected to the position of governor to take control of the group.

Thanks to the local Kiwanis Club who sponsored them, Key Club members held a variety of projects to promote togetherness and good relations within the community. Christmas proved to be a happy time for at least one Mesa family because club members got together and provided them with food, clothing, and toys for the little ones.

There's an old saying that says, "You can't go through life with your mouth closed," and Westwood Speech and Debate team kept that in mind while they were competing against many high schools throughout states. The debators of Westwood worked hard preparing speeches ranging from poetry to humor. They represented the warriors well in all of their endeavors.

Aspirations High; Dancers On The Go

Dance Club and Dance Production were two of the most actively involved organizations at Westwood. Under the direction of Mrs. Laurie Zarkou, they performed many times throughout the year at elementary schools, special education institutes, concerts and assemblies.

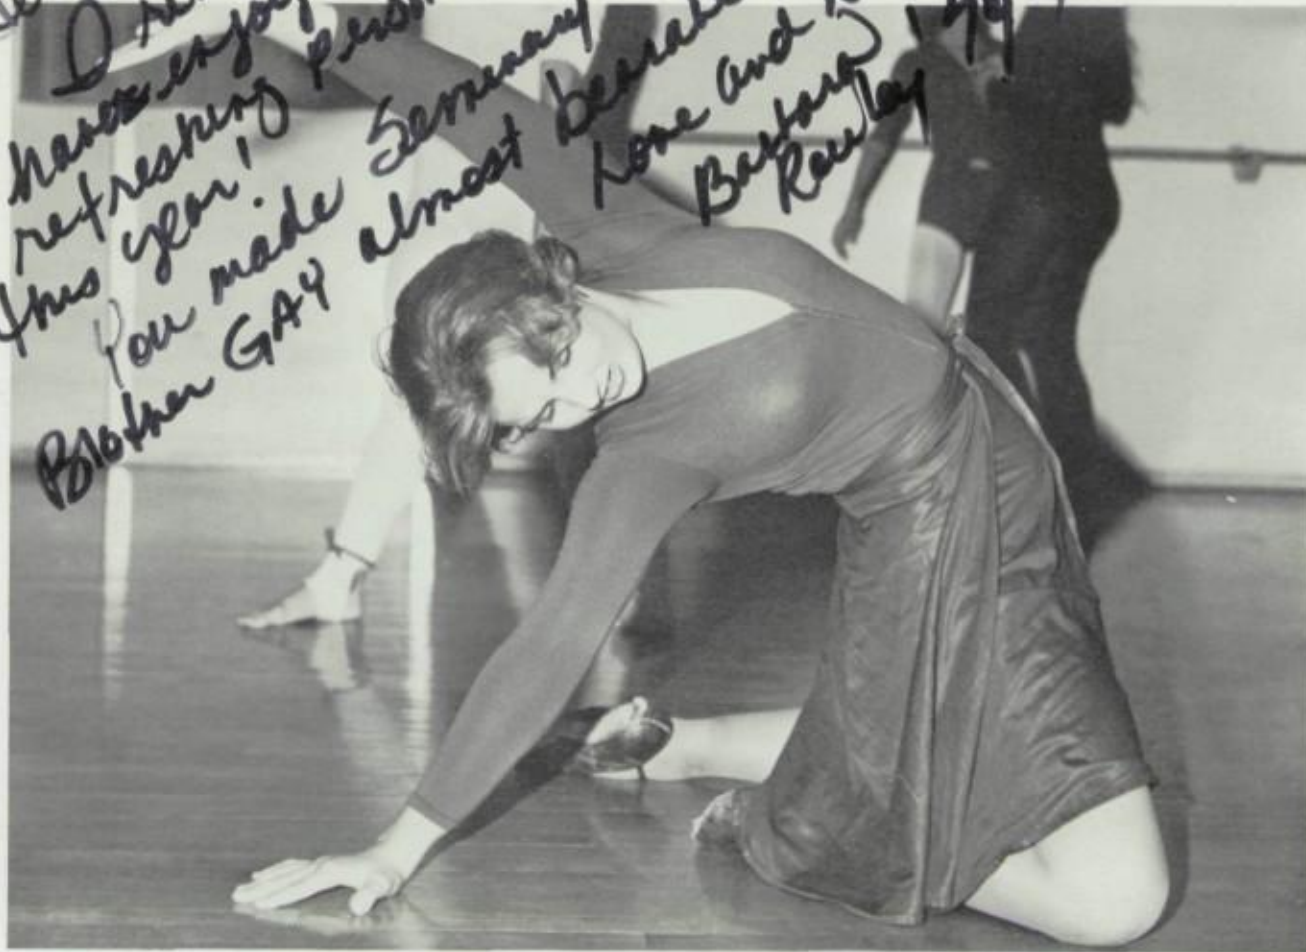

Dance Club was a group which anyone was eligible to join if they were interested. Dance Production was held sixth hour every day, and assignments included choreographing a dance and auditioning it. Apprentices who didn't make full production were allowed in on special occasions. Full production members choreographed the Christmas and Spring dance concerts. The production members were instructed in special skills of the dance field, including jazz, ballet, modern and abstract methods of dance.

Both Dance Production and Dance Club worked on many fund raising projects to help pay for equipment, costumes and other properties. They also participated in an artist in residence program which featured instruction from a professional dance troupe.

Heritage Lives Thru Awathum, Ebony Clubs

The Ebony Club was formed to promote interest in the roots and history of the black people. This year's club accomplished much. They started off by electing officers with Stella Seaberry as President, Scott Limbs as Vice President, Lynette Franklin as Secretary, and Lavon O'Banner as Treasurer. They went on to selling Coke and popcorn at the Westwood/Coronado game. In November a dance was held at the Washington Activity Center to raise funds for the club. The second week of February was "Black Heritage Week". During this week they did various things relating to their culture. That same week they had their Ebony Talent Show which turned out to be a successful program. The annual Miss Black Westwood Contest, which only senior girls were eligible for, drew great interest. The Ebony Club sponsor was Mr. Brian Stehr, who showed enormous interest in the black people's history.

Old traditions and cultures were this year's Awathum Club's main interest. They started out the year with an Indian pop-over bread sale, which proved to be successful. The annual Indian assembly, held in November, offered skits and dances depicting the lifestyle of the Indian people. Various activities went on in the Awathum Club. Guest speakers talked about Indian heritage and dress. Many slide shows were also shown. They participated in local reservation events. Mr. Duane Binnie and Mr. Brian Barabe sponsored this year's club.

Skiers Got To Snow; Hikers Hit Trails

This year the Ski and Outing Club spent their time at many different pastimes besides skiing. One of the many interests they developed throughout the year was that of backpacking.

The club took two major backpacking trips during the year. The first trip took place in April when the club visited the Indian Ruins at Sierra Ancha in Arizona. This trip proved both enjoyable and interesting to the Ski and Outing members. The other trip the club took was to Havasupai Canyon in May.

Skiing was also a major activity of the club. With the presence of the first snow the members headed immediately for the mountains. The three places they went to the most were Purgatory, Telride and Sunrise. These places were the closest and most easily accessible. Since there was quite a bit of snow on the mountains the club managed approximately four trips throughout the year.

Because of the varied pastimes of this club the membership grew and the members learned the arts of both backpacking and skiing.

Boys, Girls League Give School Spunk!

As in all the past years, the Girls and Boys Leagues added indomitable spirit to Westwood's campus. The big event for Boys League members was the highlight of the Holiday Season - the Christmas Formal. The Girls, not to be outdone, put on a memorable Co-Ed along with all the other festivities accompanying Girl-Ask-Boy Week. Along with these special events there were many joint activities involving both Boys and Girls League members. Some of their activities included parties and money-making ventures.

Unlike other clubs, any member of the Westwood student body is automatically a member of their respective league. This is a major contributing factor to the reason that the Girls and Boys Leagues are involved in all aspects of our campus and many other community services.

Service And Grades; NHS Does It Better

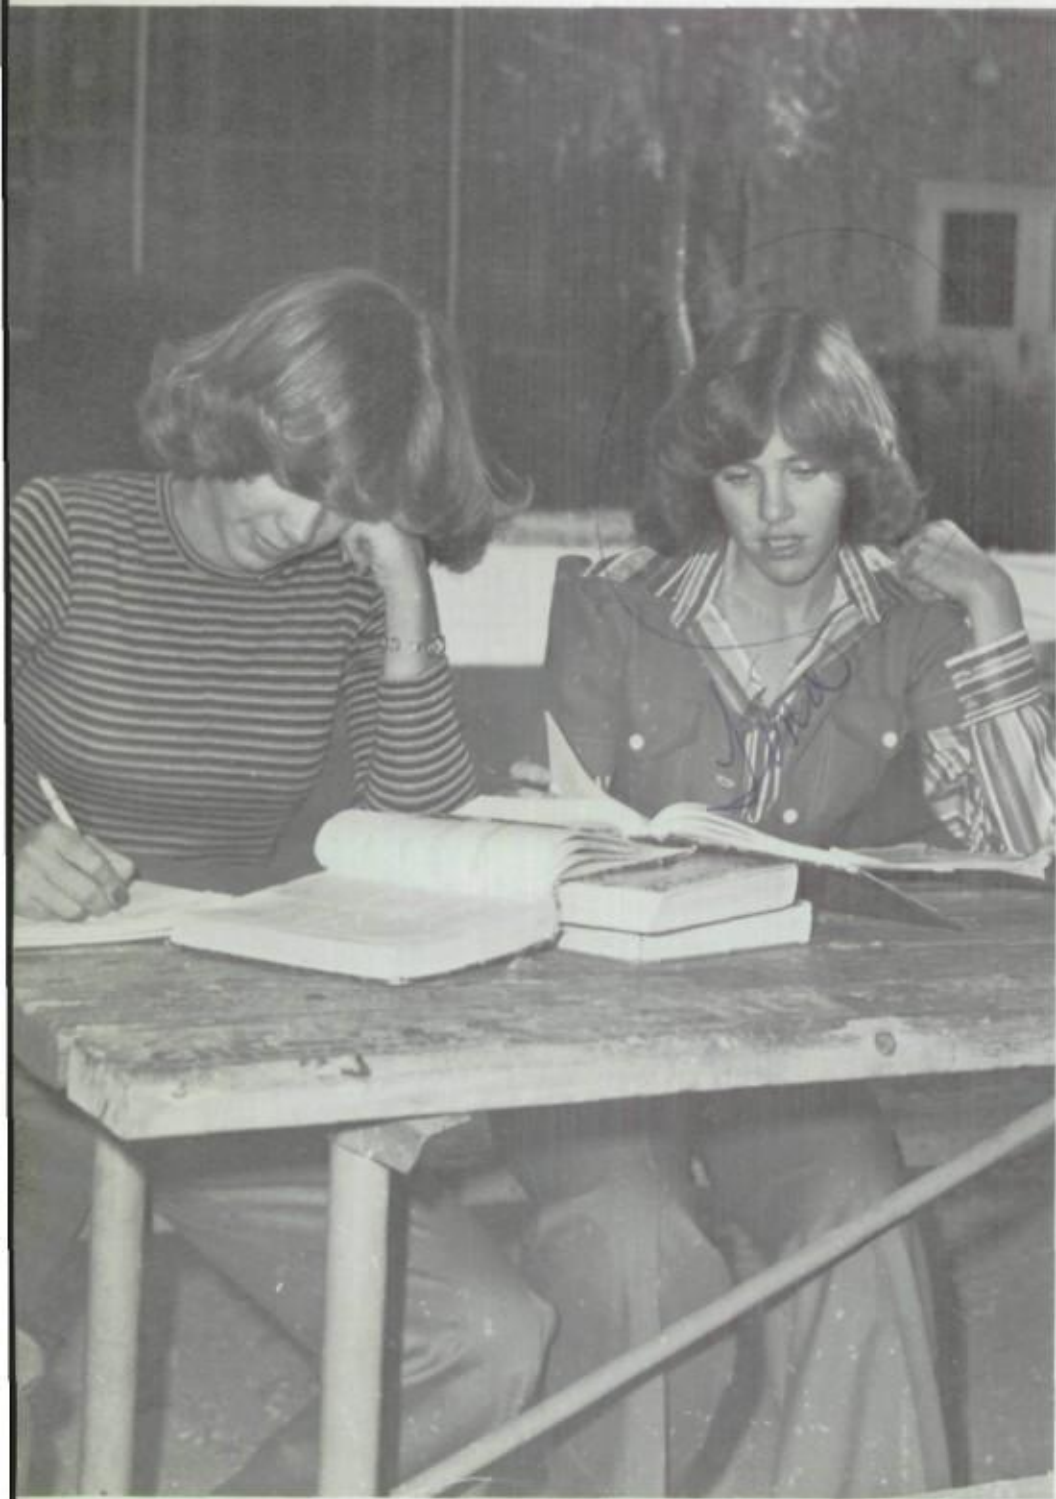

This year's National Honor Society again proved to be an asset to the school. This organization is reserved for those students who have a 1.5 grade average or better, and are ranked highly in other areas as well. Some of these areas include character, scholastic abilities, leadership, and service to the school and community. The members were all judged and chosen by a faculty selection committee which took into consideration each of the above areas.

One objective of the club was to give the students goals and high standards to reach for during their life. These students then took the goals and put them to use in their daily lives.

Like other clubs, they raised their money by doing service projects for the school and community. Some of their money went into a scholarship that was presented to a graduating senior.

The officers for this year were: Kevin Jackson-president, Susan St. John-vice president, Julie Peterson-secretary, and Grant Anderson-treasurer.

DECA Delves Into Retailing And Fashion

Distributive Educative Clubs of America, better known as DECA, has always been a leader in club and community participation. This year DECA was on top again.

Mr. Robert Bendotti, the club's sponsor, stated that a major goal of the DECA class was to "... make students aware of the field of Retailing and Fashion Distribution." This was achieved through classes and active participation in the community.

DECA took an active part in the community by setting up a booth at this year's Mesa Centennial Fair and by contributing, as a club, to this year's blood drive.

The sixty member organization also kept busy with such events as their once a week Toastmasters meeting, taking part in the annual Juniorship Conferences at ASU and Tuscon, and working to defend their championship in this year's Canned Food Drive. There were also demonstrations given to DECA members by Computer Register trainers from major department stores.

Spanish Travels; COE Teaches Skills

COE was one of the many clubs at Westwood for both girls and boys. Anyone who was interested in any phase of office work could join. These students went to school for three or four hours and went to work for the rest of the day. Students worked for banks, schools, the City of Mesa and also did many service and fund raising projects.

During class, they worked on their typing, filing and shorthand skills. They also held several class meetings. This year's officers were: President Vonnie Pettegrew, Vice President Alen Wood, Secretary Kim Romy.

The Spanish Club made paper flowers during Thai Chewee and sold student bargain packs. The funds raised covered expenses for the club's trip to Nogales in the spring.

The members also traveled to Grand Canyon College to compete with other high school students, by presenting Spanish skits.

Hero Members Attend ASU Convention; Club's Christmas Bazaar A Huge Success

Amongst the great many organizations that find jobs for Westwood students, HERO, Home Economic Related Occupations, stands out in its uniqueness to bring Home Ec related jobs to its members.

One of HERO's largest projects for the year was their Christmas Bazaar. Set up along main hall right before Christmas vacation, the booth featured a variety of handmade handicrafts that were offered for sale as Christmas gifts. Pillows, afghan, stuffed animals and Christmas ornaments were only a small sampling of items which HERO members designed, constructed and sold.

Some HERO members attended one of several ASU conventions where they were taught different aspects of Home Economics. These areas covered the handling of food in business, constructing a variety of projects with fabrics and interior decorating, to name a few.

Unlike other organizations, HERO put emphasis on setting members in jobs in which food is involved. Members took the class "A" period, then other classes for half a day and then went to work for the rest of the day. Jobs at McDonalds, Jack-In-The-Box and other chains which handle food, as well as working as interior decorators were but a few of the jobs taken by those involved in the program. Here, students did anything from washing dishes, serving food, to cooking and bussing tables.

Since, most students involved in the HERO program will eventually make careers in this line of work, the organization has a definite value in preparing young people for jobs in the outside world following high school graduation.

VICA Uses Skills; Stage Crew Shines On

Westwood's chapter of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America was quite busy this year. They began with a successful arm wrestling contest in November.

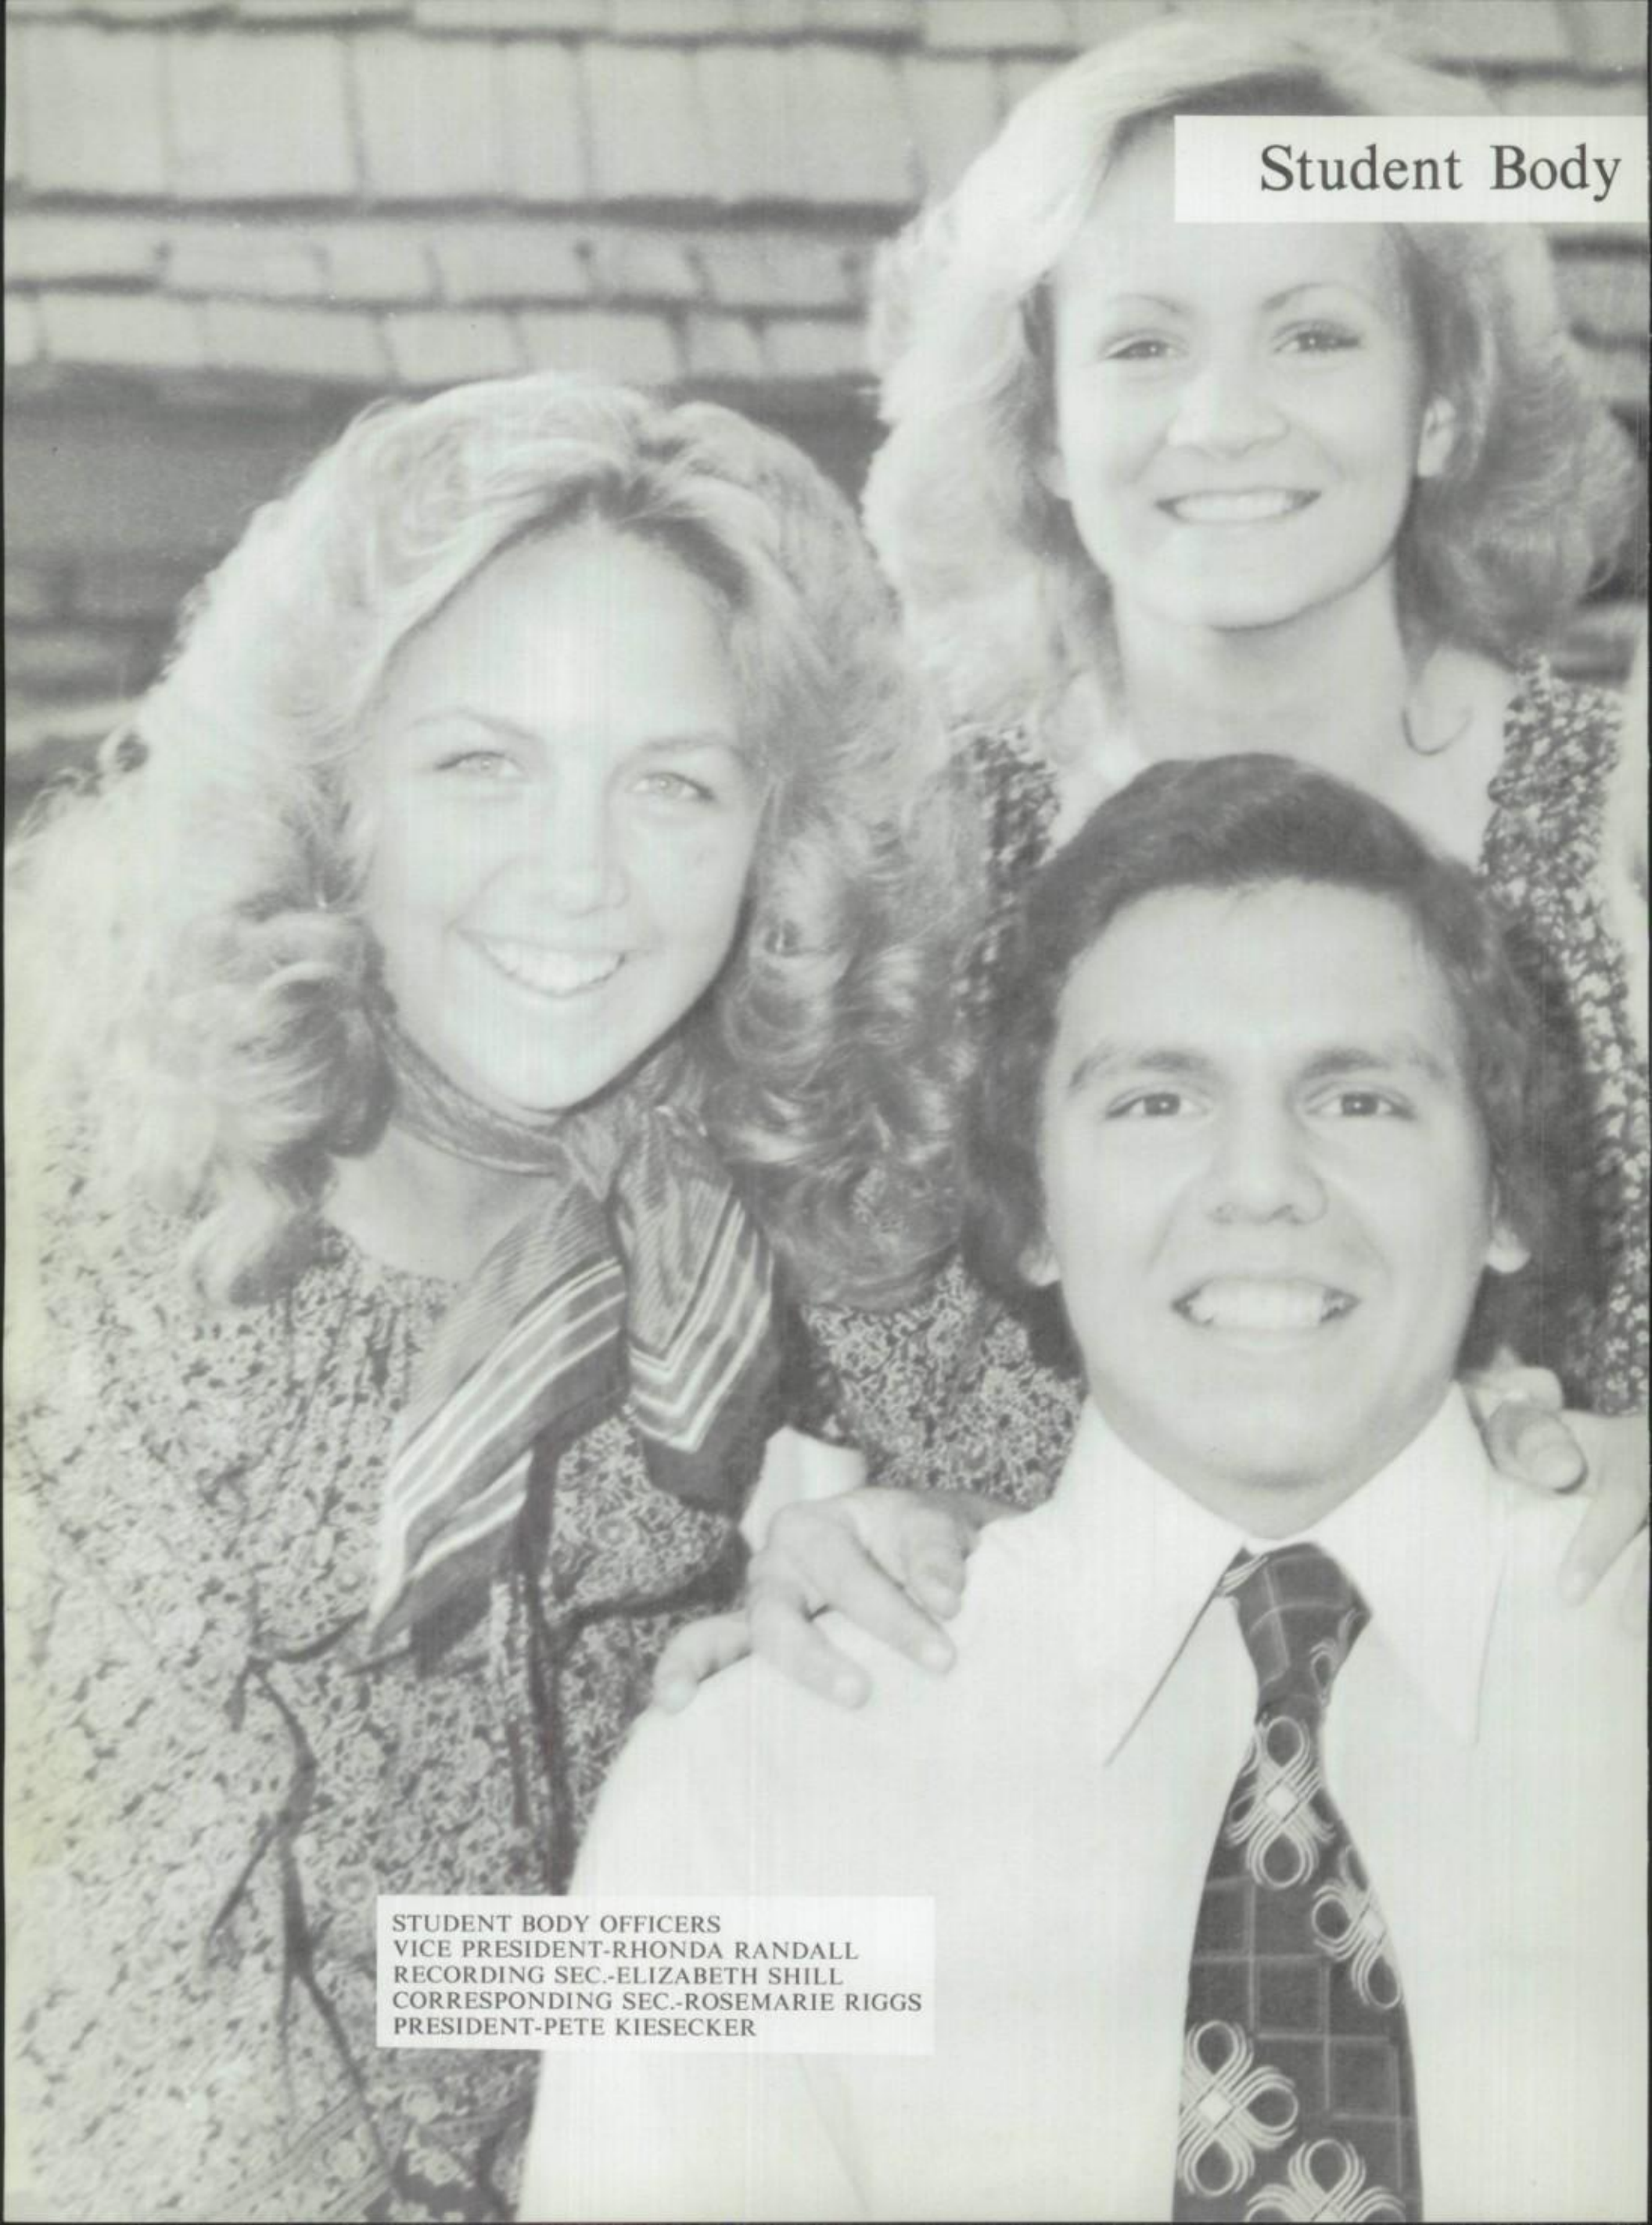

Fund raising projects for the group included selling mistletoe and candy during the Christmas season. Later in the year they conducted a Skill and Ability Competition. The competition covered such occupations as woodwork, welding, architecture, electronics, and foundry and construction.

The members of Stage Crew kept Westwood's newly remodeled Shepherd Auditorium in lights and sound. The paid crew, under the direction of Mr. Jay Dean Jones, opened and closed curtains, shown spotlights, set up scenery, and otherwise took control of dances and assemblies. They also set up the sound system for many of the campus' outside activities.

Bond Issue Passes; New Schools Coming

Once again, this year's school board members worked hard to better our schools and our district

This improvement, or beginning of improvement, came about in the form of the 1977 school bond issue which was passed in November. In this bond, provisions were made for the building of five elementary schools, three junior high schools, plus a new high school in the Dobson Ranch Area. These new schools were badly needed in order to keep classroom conditions at their best while the enrollment in the Mesa Public Schools grew. Westwood also benefited from the bond by receiving money to modernize facilities. A new lighting system for Brimhall Field, and remodeling of athletic dressing facilities were just a few of the planned improvements for Westwood.

Thanks to the hard work of school board members, the high quality of the Mesa Public Schools was upheld. The five members of the school board, headed by Lynn Sharp, conducted weekly meetings in order to find new and better methods of running the school system efficiently. These civic minded people contributed many hours out of their busy schedules in order to make learning conditions better for the youth of Mesa. All of the time put in by these fine people, throughout the year, was repaid only by students' gratitude.

Administrators Aid In Problem Solving

Westwood's office formed the main axis for the many students with their daily problems. The administration, from secretaries to principals, were always willing to help students.

The administration handled everything from daily attendance to college preparation. Fall registration and second semester schedule changes were handled with skill and ease. While all this was being accomplished, changes were being made in order to make working conditions a little easier for the administration. These changes were made in the form of an addition to the office and more room for the bookstore.

Thanks to the skill of our administrators Westwood students had a trouble free year and were always well informed in matters.

By Persuasive Means Come Gifted Tongues

The Foreign Language Department kept students busy with such events as the annual Foreign Language Fair held at Grand Canyon College, and the National Language Contest at ASU. Foreign Language Week was dedicated to honoring each language and also raising funds that were used for the Foreign Language scholarship given to a graduating senior. The week ended with a banquet where students enjoyed delicacies from other lands.

The English Department tried to help students prepare for life after they left Westwood. The department did this with a series of changes in teaching methods. Incoming sophomores were required to take the same specific courses to ensure a basic knowledge of the English language. Graduating seniors took a basic English test to be sure that they had command of the English language. Besides teaching, the department offered Westwood's Literary Magazine, Visions.

Title IX Strikes, Girls Saw, Boys Sew

Each year the curriculum for the Home Economics and Industrial Arts Department widens. This year, not only did the boys and girls learn to be self sufficient on the home front, but they learned the importance of combining quality, quantity and economy. The students learned how to cope with the rising costs and impending shortages.

Any time a person walked through the Home Economics Department he could hear the buzz of sewing machines and the smell of delightful aromas. The dishes whipped up in cooking were not only delectable, but nutritious and thrifty as well. Students learned that a stitch in time does save a dime. They also found that they could create an "original" with the help of the sewing machine.

On the other hand, Industrial Arts students used their creative talents to produce items which were made from wood and metal materials. They found that they could save money by making something themselves and have fun while doing it.

Both of these departments achieved success since they felt that the students who left their classes were well prepared to handle the outside world.

Tractor And Wrench Tools For Learning

Producing well running cars and delicious fruits and vegetables were the main objectives of Auto Mechanics and Agriculture departments, respectively.

Agriculture students learned many valuable items this year about farm living and work. Everything from how to care for baby animals, to running a tractor or tilling the soil. The majority of the work is done in the great outdoors, which gave the students a greater chance to work close to nature.

Under the guidance of three very talented men, the Auto Mechanics department progressed well, this year. Students got the chance to use varied and valuable equipment, which helped them immensely, when they were working on cars. Perhaps one of the greatest vocational courses offered here at Westwood that leads to a solid career in the future is Auto Mechanics.

Past Knowledge Aids In Future Endeavors

This year's Business and Social Studies Departments worked harder than ever to give students the knowledge that would help them in the future. The young people of today will eventually take over our country in years to come. With this in mind, teachers made sure that their students received the best possible education so that they may assume their roles properly.

In the Business Department students were trained in areas such as shorthand, typing and bookkeeping which may help them in just about any chosen field they may choose to enter. Several Business programs were designed to put office experience behind them for future use.

For sixteen years now, the dedicated people and staff of the Social Studies Department have taught Westwood students about America's struggle for independence. Not only were the students taught the history of the country, but also the way American government functions and works with its people. Students were also advised of the laws that govern our country and of the restrictions placed upon them as young adults soon to take their place in society.

Perfections Our Aim In Driving, Games

Physical Education; to some it was just a required subject, but to most people it was a learning experience to help the mind and body grow. Not only did P.E. include physical activities, but it also included classes in health and drivers education and training.

Among the top activities for the school-day-athletes were softball, volleyball, basketball, rugby and soccer. "A" period even offered time for the team athletes and others to do some extra toning.

Co-ed activities were successful again this year. Not only did it provide a time for gawking, staring, and drooling, it also gave the girls a chance to prove their equality and some time superiority.

In health, students learned the importance of correct training, first aid, and prevention of injuries. This class covered many other topics of interest and it also proved to be a favorite among students here at Westwood.

Drivers Education was right with the times with their one-year old simulators and multi-media equipment working full force this year to help new drivers see and understand what road situations are like.

Art Draws Students; Musicians Make Music

The thought of seeing oneself through art seemed to be of big importance for the Visual Arts Department. With this in mind, the students of Westwood worked hard to develop their talents. They created projects that showed images of themselves. Many students entered projects of paintings, weavings, and sculptures, with hopes of gaining a scholarship.

The Performing Arts Department, with determination and hours of practice, took up three-fourths of the participants in the Mountain States Regional Festival this year. Top quality concerts, game performances, tours and festivals, were products of their hard work, and in the end, they were truly rewarding experiences containing a lot of good fun. This was certainly a year for the arts to combine efforts in presenting the best.

Theories And Figures Test Tubes And Facts

Besides regular departmental classes, the Math Department stemmed further into the world of computers. Computer classes helped students gain a knowledge of the basic computer language. An annual state and national competition was held offering students the chance for advancement in the exciting world of Math.

Westwood's Science Department alternated between teaching students the makeup of life and its domain, and also helping those who wished to make science their life. To the more devoted students, came the competition for the Bausch and Lomb Award, given to the competitor who showed outstanding abilities in the science field.

Although both departments had separate services, the two joined together to press the need for a change from our present measuring system to the metric system. The Science Department made students aware of the new system while math students were made aware of the necessary conversions.

Special Jobs Require Exceptional People

A lot of special people helped Westwood this year.

In addition to Al Arbizu and George Alberts, we welcomed a new security matron, Val Jambor to Westwood. She assisted Al and George with the daily security services.

Keeping the school clean and sanitary so that the students could attend in comfort was the ever present job of the custodians.

The cafeteria, having been remodeled, leaves room for both workers and students to move about more efficiently.

Always present to render medical attention was Westwood's very own nurse, Mabel Flower.

The first person thought of when students were in need of any type of supplies from stickers to notebooks was Mr. Andre Messali, the manager of the bookstore.

Books Offer Expansion In Learning Experience

The library is more than just a quiet place on campus as Martin Lea finds out. It has many books to help out on assignments and other required projects. On the other hand, the library has just as many books to read in one's leisure time, too.

Hole-In-The-Wall Gang Off To Bolivia

One of the big activities that evolved during the school year, was getting your picture taken "Western Style". Posing and portraying the legendary hole-in-the-wall gang was what this group had in mind. Led by Lane "Butch Cassidy" Reynolds (extreme left) and Brian "Sundance Kid" Nissen (extreme right), are hard guys; Brent "Billy the Kid" Gardner, Hoover "Judge Roy Bean" Jones, John "Pancho Villa" Sezate, Mike "Wyatt Earp" Tompkins, Paul "Doc Holiday" Nielsen, and Terry "Jesse James" Turk. The gang took time to have this picture taken on their way to Bolivia.

Hand,
I wish we didn't get to know each other better.
I don't know to many guys like you.
You're really cute and I like those heavy lips.
I'm really sorry you guys to move, I'll miss you.
For you Manly "SO"

The effort and loyalty contained in the pages of this book cannot be measured in hours. There were times of tears, fights, and endless pressures. Still, these were outweighed by the good times and the laughter.

The Chieftain Staff of 1978 is to be congratulated. It wasn't an easy job but they supported each other and me to make this book a reality.

Kathy, Paula, and Liz, I thank you for always being there when I was about to give up. I can never repay you three and Mari and Judy for the weekends you sacrificed. I would also like to thank Kathy for leading us all in the National Anthem when all of the television stations signed off!

Danny, half of this book belongs to you. I will never forget your endless hours of work, dedication, and moral support. The book was finished in such a short time, but I thank you and I will remember this year for a long time.

I give my love and thanks to my parents and Sheri. They put up with my outbursts and shortcomings through the year, not to mention a house full of people.

Finally to Mr. Donovan, you have taught me leadership over the past three years. You've let me make my own decisions and even watched me fall on my face a few times. Thank you for everything.

The past nine months of my life have been captured in these 240 pages. I am proud of this book and of the staff that produced it. I thank you all and will always remember the Chieftain Staff of 1977-78.

Brad,
 Stay out of trouble!
 I was fun having you in art & English but you better stop burning things, like people.
 Come back to school as a cool
 senior but don't get a big head.
 Have a nice Summer. Don't get
